WE NOMINATE

Dana Gardner Munro, second-generation Princetonian and one of the first American scholars to turn his attention to Latin American affairs, who over the decades has been responsible for opening new doors for Latin American studies in this country, and particularly at Princeton University. Monday evening the 74-year old Munro was the honored guest at a Princeton Inn banquet as The Henry L. and Grace Doherty Charitable Foundation, Inc., of which he has long been a trustee, announced a capital grant of $1,000,000 to the University for the development of programs Munro has helped mould, including fellowships, research, travel scholarships for undergraduates and conferences.

A son of an eminent Princeton medievalist, and brother of one of the Princeton community's beloved physicians, Jeannette Munro, this native of Providence, R. I., retired from the University in 1961 upon completing 31 years of service under three Princeton Presidents. For 19 years, 1939-1958, he had combined distinguished teaching with the direction of the Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs and, since its establishment in 1939, had held the William Stewart Tod Professorship in Public Affairs, the first endowed chair created within the School memoralizing the 28th President of the United States.

As recently as 1959, at an age when few scholars are tapped for top-level governmental assignments, Munro was one of six authorities appointed to the National Advisory Committee President Eisenhower brought into being to help stem rising anti-American sentiment in Latin America. The Committee's mission was to consider long-range problems in the nation's relations with Latin America, to make recommendations thereon to Secretary of State Christian Herter and to develop new ideas which would promote wider understanding of Inter-American relations among the people of this country.

It was while qualifying for his doctorate at the University of Pennsylvania, after he had studied at Brown, the University of Wisconsin and the University of Munich, that Munro began specializing in Latin American affairs. He spent two years in Central America analyzing social and economic relations under a grant from the Carnegie Peace Endowment and received his degree in 1917. A year later he published the first of his major works, "The Five Republics of Central America," and, prior to joining the Department of State in 1919, served as pilot in the miniscule World War I Air Force.

For the next 11 years, a period culminated by his appointment as Chief of the Division of Latin American Affairs within the Department of State, Munro became one of the best-known North Americans in South America. He started out as an economist for Mexico and the Caribbean Region, moved southward to Chile as a consular economist and held forth as Secretary of the American Legations in Panama and Nicaragua. It was not surprising that in 1930, the fall he was appointed to the Princeton Faculty, he was immediately given a two-year leave of absence to serve as American Minister to Haiti.

For making possible the expansion of a program of instruction and research to which he has given his life; for sensing — long before the majority of his contemporaries — the significance and impact of Inter-American affairs; for his grasp of such concepts as "hemispheric solidarity;" he is our nominee as TOWN TOPICS' PRINCETON'S MAN OF THE WEEK

TEENS WANT GYM

At "Miss Fine's." Parents for Youth asked Borough Council Tuesday night to consider leasing the gym at the former Miss Fine's School to P. for Y. as a community "Teen Center."

Mrs. Raymond F. Male, 76 Cedar Lane, president of the Princeton High School PTA, made the presentation, asking the Borough to lease the gym to the parent-teen group which would incorporate as a non-profit institution. Parents would be legally responsible, but management would be on a one-one, parent-teen basis, Mrs. Male said.

P. for Y. would provide money to renovate the gym and keep it heated, lighted and in good repair. The gym would be available to other groups in town for dances, meetings, or whatever, on a rental basis.

"The teen-agers want to be together in an unplanned, unprogrammed way — not necessarily DOING anything," Mrs. Male explained. She suggested that the Teen Center (P. for Y. rejects the term "lounge") could be open every afternoon and Friday and Saturday evenings, freeing the gym for use on other evenings during the week.

$60,000 Needed. The group has estimated that it will take $60,000 to renovate the cinder-block structure, Mrs. Male said, adding "this doesn't frighten us." She told Council that the organization has already had a substantial offer of money.

"We're trying to help the teenagers to get something for themselves," Mrs. Male said, reminding Councilmen that teens on their own had raised $1,800 in three years toward some kind of Center.

"There would be supervision —maybe a paid supervisor. It wouldn't be permissive," Mrs. Male assured.

Mayor Henry S. Patterson repeated his desire to see the Miss Fine's building used by any town group and he cited the over-age (i.e., 25 years old) basketball players who might want to play there on summer evenings.

Mrs. Male said the teen-agers were aware of the needs of others and indeed hope that other organizations would use the gym so that their rental would help pay the freight.

How Long? "Every previous attempt like this has died of pernicious anemia," observed Councilman Joseph Strayer gloomily. "What about continuity? Will the people now interested, continue to be?"

Parents have discussed this seriously, Mrs. Male replied. "If the youngsters pay to renovate the gym, that saves the Borough about $60,000. If our proposal fails, well, the community will have a building renovated at no cost to the taxpayer."

Councilman Enoch Durbin, having asked several questions about operating budget, income, dovetailing with the Recreation Commission's program, the Y, the schools and the churches, to say nothing of the legalities involved, found himself named liaison between Council and the P. for Y. His questions and others, will be incorporated, with answers, in a written report to Council which Mr. Durbin hopes to have ready by Council's next meeting.

Approval for Assunpink. It's been a heady autumn for Mayor Patterson; he was called upon to cast another tie-breaking vote Tuesday night. This is his second in two months and only his second in five years in office. His vote was part of fast parliamentary footwork on the question o. where to build the Mercer County Community College.

Of Mercer County's 13 municipalities, only the Borough and Trenton have withheld endorsement of the Assunpink Park site in West Windsor. The Borough has taken no position because Councilmen decided they needed more information.

So on Tuesday night, James C. Sayen, Mercer County Park Commissioner, spoke up for Assunpink, and Pasquale Maffei, chairman of the Trenton Mayor's Citizens Committee spoke for Trenton.

Mr. Sayen referred to Assunpink as the geographic and future demographic center of the county and he cited figures to show that it would be cheaper to build in the country than in the city. Example: a possible cost of $300,000 per acre in Trenton, Assunpink land is being acquired with Open Space funds.)

Mr. Maffei said it is the high schools of Trenton that send youngsters to the present Trenton Junior College, which is being absorbed into the community college, and that the college should be where the kids are. Transportation to a country site would impose a hardship, he stressed. He also said there were no water or sewer facilities in the Assunpink Park, and County Planner Louis Calvanelli admitted that this was so, but outlined in some detail the plans for extending public utilities into the park.

"Why divide your support by seeking site endorsements from municipalities?" Mr. Durbin asked, and Mr. Calvanelli replied that it was West Windsor's idea to ask for endorsements, not the county's.

Finally Mr. Durbin moved that Council pass a vote of confidence in the community college trustees' decision on a site, and this brought a scramble of comment.

Councilman Ellwood Godfrey said Trenton did not have space for an adequate college and Mr. Strayer said he certainly wasn't going to have anyone think he didn't have confidence in the college's trustees, but Trenton sites were obviously inadequate for growth, and when the vote come on trusting the trustees, it was a 3-3 tie Mayor Patterson voted "no."

Then they began all over again and Dr. Godfrey moved approval of the Assunpink site. It was carried, 5-0. Mr. Durbin abstained.

GROUP DISCUSSES TEENS

"What Can We Do?" A group of 13 non-teenagers met for an hour and a half on Saturday morning to talk about — teenagers.

The meeting grew out of a letter written by Dr. Robert F. Goheen, president of Princeton University, to Borough Mayor Henry S. Patterson and Township Mayor Carl C. Schafer expressing the University's concern over problems of the young in town and gown, and offering the University's physical and intellectual resources to help solve the problems.

Specifically, the University suggested that teen dances might be held in its armory, but the group that met on Saturday replied regretfully that the armory is just too remote from the center of things to serve the purpose.

Also, Dr. Goheen pointed out that local talent at the University might probe for answers to the question "Why do teenagers behave the way they do?" and he suggested sociology professors as particularly skillful workers in this field. Saturday's group agreed that this approach might be fruitful and decided to talk with sociologists and possibly psychologists as well, in the near future.

The group also touched another aspect of the University's part in Princeton's teen problems. It was suggested that, rightly or wrongly, town boys look upon undergraduates as privileged, and are therefore resentful. A town girl, for example, may be welcomed quite literally with open arms on Prospect Avenue but her town boyfriend is not welcome at all.

The meeting on Saturday was called by Mayor Patterson, and since it would be impossible to assemble simultaneously all residents of Princeton interested in teenagers, its roster is a sampling rather than a cross-section.

Those who attended were Dr. Goheen; William D'O. Lippincott, Dean of Students at the University; Burton Pe-zin, Township Committeeman; William H. Walker and Enoch Durbin, Borough Councilmen; Kenneth Michael, principal of Princeton High School; Mrs. Kathleen Edwards, president of the John-Witherspoon Citizens' Association; Dr. Donald Meisel, minister of First Presbyterian Church; Donald Barr, Princeton Recreation Director; Mrs. Raymond F. Mole, president of the Princeton High School PTA; Walter Sorg, executive director of the YMCA and Gordon Mack, Township resident who is associate director of the Central Atlantic area Council of the YMCA.

FOR SCHOOL BOARD?

One Incumbent Drops. So far, no contest has developed for the nine seats on the Princeton Regional School Board.

David Brodsky, a Township Board member, announced this week that he will not run, but all other eight members of the board have said informally that they will seek election on February 7.

Of these, only two — Herbert S. Bailey of the Township and Robert A. Lively of the Borough — have filed petitions formally with Norman Anderson, secretary of the board. The filing deadline is 4 p.m. Friday, December 30.

Anti-merger or anti-board candidates have yet to show themselves. Spokesmen for S.O.S. say they know of no one who plans to challenge the present board.

The election on February 7 will be the first for the new regional system. The present board was appointed by Jack Twitchell, County Superintendent of Schools, after the affirmative merger vote last summer. It consists of five Borough and four Township members, a proportion which will continue until 1970.

The Borough incumbents planning to run, in addition to Dr. Lively, are Dr. E. Frederick Laschever, Thomas Moore, Mrs. Bonnie Wagner and Dr. Harvey Rothbert. Township members, besides Mr. Bailey, are Mrs. Suzanne Fremon and Charles L. Jaffin.

ters of Dr. and Mrs. James Cantrell, 94 Einstein Drive, died after the operation performed to separate them.

The operation was performed on Monday and the first twin, Susan, succumbed Monday evening. The second twin, Karen, died at dawn on Tuesday. The infants were born on November 22.

Dr. Samuel L. Cremon, chief surgeon at St. Christopher's Hospital for Children in Philadelphia, where the operation was performed, said that the first twin was a "blue baby" and died of heart failure attributed to congenital defects. Her sister also died of cardiac problems, according to a spokesman at St. Christopher's.

The infants were joined at heart, liver, biliary tract and intestines. A team of 32 medical specialists, including 10 surgeons, attended the twins during the operation.

COFFEE HOUSE "GREAT"

The Tomb Re-opens. Princeton teenagers jammed the new coffee house at Trinity Episcopal Church on Friday evening. And they found a warm welcome on Monday afternoon at First Presbyterian Church when The Tomb re-opened after a brief hiatus.

At Trinity, 267 teenagers (a guestimate based on food orders) dropped in on Friday and Saturday. They admired their own handiwork in the renovated basement and sampled the rector's hamburgers. They heard an internationally known folk duo on Friday and on Saturday drew entertainers from their own ranks. Dave Turner of Pennington, a junior at Temple University, Mike Flynn, a Princeton University undergraduate and Chuck Burton of Princeton Seminary were in charge.

"It was great!" according to the Rev. Arthur Lockhart, kept busy most of the time with hamburger orders. "The kids were swell, and I think the adults were as excited as the kids." Parish parents assisting in the kitchen, handling orders passed in by 16 teenage waiters and waitresses, and helping in a number of quiet ways included Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Young, Mrs. Mary Hammond, Mrs. Gordon Turner, Mrs. Minturn Collins and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Plumb, the Trinity Teens' advisors.

The rector, Rev. Canon Robert R. Spears Jr., too busy with hamburgers to stop, was interviewed by WHWH commentator Richard Huber from his post in front of the stove. On Saturday, the pace slowed, with two teenage dances in town, and the coffee house took up the slack.

The coffee house will be open from 8 until 11:30 this Friday and Saturday evening, and again on Friday, December 23. The sponsors, Trinity Parish and Youth Associates, hope to open the facility during Christmas week. The Rev. Mr. Lockhart says the coffee house will welcome donations of pies.

SUSPECT IS CHARGED

In Liquor Store Robbery. Borough Police have charged a New Brunswick man with the holdup and robbery Friday morning of the Varsity Liquor store, 234 Nassau Street.

That night, Sgt. Theodore Lewis charged Charles Fisher, 39, 1003 Livingston Avenue, New Brunswick, with the theft. The accused is currently in St. Peter's Hospital in New Brunswick where he is being treated for a stab wound. He is being guarded at all times by members of the Borough force.

Chief Peter J. McCrohan reported that he expects Fisher will be released from the hospital later this week. He added the suspect will probably be formally arraigned upon his discharge at a preliminary hearing in New Brunswick.

Chief McCrohan declined to give any information about the

The season's first snowfall changed the scenery in these parts Tuesday, but it could have been worse (or better), depending on what you're hoping for.

Warmer temperature during the night brought rain and melted much of the two-inch fall away. Clear skies will prevail for the next two days but the weekend may bring more precipitation — snow or rain, depending on what the thermometer feels like at the time.

Christmas Fund Needs Your Help

From the 1966 Town Topics Christmas Appeal:

"When Mrs. Paula D., 59, called Family Service her voice was so soft and frightened that the worker could hardly understand the name and address. After much difficulty, it was established that she and her 62-year old husband, who have always been respected, self-supporting members of the community, were too ill to go out and literally had no food in the house. In their cold and isolated home, which they were keeping just warm enough to prevent te pipes from freezing, Mrs. D. explained that almost total blindness makes it impossible for her to work while her husband needed an operation they could not afford.

"Emergency food was brought in, welfare funds were made available and Mr. and Mrs. D. were finally persuaded to take advantage of clinics for urgently needed medical help. As the situation improved, the worker learned that Mr. and Mrs. D. have six married children who know nothing whatsoever of their parents' plight and to one of whom they had loaned their life-savings in the hope of saving a grandchild who succumbed to lingering illness.

"Deeply upset by the prospect of receiving long-haul help from either the community or their children, Mr. and Mrs. D. reluctantly wrote their sons and daughters, stating that they were planning their older years but avoiding mention of any of their agonizing worries. The children read between the lines and responded magnificently. Together, with perceptive counsel, Mr. and Mrs. D. are starting to look ahead."

Six days after the 1966 appeal had been published in TOWN TOPICS, $653.25 had been received from Princeton and numerous nearby communities. More cases than ever before have been listed by the Family Service Agency, which documents all facts prior to pulication, and the need for community giving is more acute than at any time since the Christmas Fund was established 24 years ago.

Contributions may be mailed to TOWN TOPICS, P.O. Box 664, Princeton, or brought to its office at 4 Mercer Street. Checks should be made payable to the Town Topics Christmas Fund.

suspect or the events leading to his quick capture, in accordance with the strict limitations of the recent Supreme Court ruling. The investigation was conducted by Lt. Francis Maguire, Detective Robert McAvenia, Sgt. Lewis and Ptl. Proscecine.

The holdup took place at 10 in the morning. Steven Eory, the owner, who was alone in the store, later told police that he was surprised by a man wearing a ski mask. "This is a stick-up," he said.

"At first, I thought he was joking," Mr. Eory recalled. "But then he stuck a snub-nosed revolver under my chin and said, 'I'm not fooling this is a stick-up!'"

The gunman then forced Mr. Eory into a rest room where he bound his hands and told him to lie on the floor. He fled in a car with $125 cash. Mr. Eory said he then ran next door to Redding's Appliance Store and called the police.

TWO WOMEN IN CRASH

At Elm and Rosedale. The accident prone intersection of Elm and Rosedale Roads was the scene of a two-car collision at 7:50 Monday morning.

Mrs. Eleanor M. Pinelli, 25, 143 Mountain Avenue, driving a Volkswagen, received a bloody nose when she collided with a car coming south on Elm operated by Patricia A. Rich, 17, of Trenton. Mrs. Pinelli did not require medical attention.

Mrs. Pinelli told Borough police she underestimated the speed of the Rich car and felt she had time to complete a left turn onto Rosedale. There were no charges.

Two teachers at the Chapin School were injured at 8:27 Friday morning in a head-on crash on the Princeton Pike near Gallup Drive.

Mrs. Sheila A. Damrosch, 24, 217-A Marshall Street, and her passenger, Mrs. Barbera Oddone, 23, 220-A Marshall, were taken to Princeton Hospital for treatment. Mrs. Damrosch for an injury to her left leg and Mrs. Oddone for face lacerations and a leg injury. The other driver, John Pankovitch, 26, Trenton, was uninjured, although his 1966 sedan was a total loss.

Mr. Pankovitch told police that as he came over a slight rise on the Pike, he saw a car stopped in front in his lane. Unable to stop in time or to veer right, he said, he decided to take a chance by swerving into the opposite lane.

Mrs. Damrosch said she turned to the right to try to avoid a collision but it was too late. Mrs. Damrosch besides Latin and Mrs. Oddone fourth grade at Chapin School, which is located on the Pike.

Two Minutes, Two Accidents. Two minutes later at 8:29, in another section of the Township, Nina H. Brown, 22 of Mohawk, N. Y. veered and struck a public service pole on the northeast corner of the intersection of Valley Road and Walnut Lane. She sustained a laceration of the lip.

She told Ptl. Michael Kopliner that another car had entered Valley Road and caused her to veer to avoid an accident. A witness, Thomas Bainbridge, 321 Walnut Lane, told police he was in his living room when he heard the crash. He looked out and saw a white car turning East onto Valley Road in front of Mrs. Brown. It continued on, he said.

Santa's Ready — Call 924-3883

Henry Schultz, who has been Princeton's "telephone Santa Claus" for the past 17 years, is again ready to receive calls from the younger generation.

He'll discuss topics ranging from Christmas lists to the current temperature at the North Pole and — ahem, past behaviour of the small people on the other end of the line. The magic number is 924-3883.

Parents are asked to observe his hours — 1 to 5 and 7 to 9 p.m. daily, right through Christmas Eve. Ever enthusiastic despite his blindness and his membership in the society of octogenarians, Mr. Schultz welcomes the most loquacious callers but needs the other hours in the day to keep his toy factory running.

Princeton Barracks were busy over the weekend with accidents involving minor injuries. Two food service trucks collided Monday morning at Clarksville and Hightstown Roads.

Early Sunday morning there was an accident on Route 1, and three at the Penns Neck Circle, two on Saturday and one early Friday evening. Another took place on Thursday on Route 1 and Quaker Bridge Road. None of the injured was from the Princeton area.

One accident that did involve the Princeton area occurred Thursday morning at Main and Laurel Streets in Kingston. Catherine M. Blount, 18, Princeton Junction, and her passenger, Carol Funk, 23, of North Brunswick, were treated for lacerations at Princeton Hospital and released.

Mrs. Blount collided with a car operated by George Colline, 37, of Hightstown. State Police charged her with careless driving.

Tuesday's snow brought a number of minor accidents and one which resulted in injury to three residents of this area. It took place on Rosedale Road near the Johnson Park School shortly after 4 o'clock.

Mrs. Cheryl Chang, 11 Murray Place, and her 5-year old son, Christopher, were admitted to Princeton Hospital following a collision with a car driven by Mrs. Elizabeth Irwin of Pennington. The young boy was listed in critical condition; his mother, satisfactory. Mrs. Irwin was treated for minor injuries.

PISTOL STOLEN

From Railway Express. A package containing a .45 caliber pistol was reported stolen Friday from the Railway Express office on University Place by Raymond Wiley, an employe.

Mr. Wiley told police that a pane of glass in a rear window had been broken to gain entry the night before. There were four packages in the building, he said. Three of them were thrown outside and left behind. The fourth contained the pistol.

The Princeton Methodist Church, Nassau and Vandeventer, called Friday to report the theft of a record player from a room where the Mercer County Child Guidance Center conducts classes for retarded children. A 12 by 14-inch sign, valued at $35, was reported stolen Saturday by the owner of the Witherspoon Art Book Shop, 12 Nassau Street.

In the Township, Melvin B. Gutlieb, 33 Random Road, reported the theft of a $35 sabre saw and a $40 power drill from his garage. He told police he had last used the tools in October.

Thomas Brian, superintendent of grounds for Princeton Theological Seminary, reported several windows in the Chapel shot with BB guns. Two 8 by 10-inch windows in Stuart Hall were punctured by BB pellets.

TWO BURGLARS NABBED

By Township Police. Two Philadelphia men were apprehended Saturday night after they had entered and robbed a home at 3590 Lawrenceville Road. Township police were called to the scene at the request of the Lawrence Township Police.

The home, that of John H. Koslowski, owner of the Park Lane Furniture Store on Olden Avenue in Trenton, is located just over the Princeton Township line. Police said the men had entered the home by prying open a rear door.

Robert F. McKnight, 48, was nabbed by Pfc. Henry Kresse and Pfc. Frank Cox in a car parked behind the home on Province Line Road. A second man, William L. Parmer, was caught hiding under a bush outside the home by Pfc. Orlando Carnevale, Sgt. Jack Perone and Sgt. Anthony Nina also participated in the arrests.

The two were turned over to the Lawrence Township Police who added that apparently a third man escaped with an undetermined amount of jewelry. Mr. Koslowski reported that several watches, a diamond ring and other jewelry were taken. The theft took place at about 7 p.m. while the family was away.

CRACKDOWN PROMISED

On Meter Feeders. Starting Friday, Chief Peter J. McCrohan has promised to begin a strict enforcement against meter feeders in the central business district.

Because of the Christmas rush, Chief McCrohan said at his news conference Tuesday that he plans to have extra men on foot patrol whose primary purpose will be to keep meter feeders from clogging the business district. "Each man will be assigned a section which he will patrol from 10 to 8 p.m.," he said.

"We intend to mark tires and anyone we discover feeding meters will be issued a parking ticket — regardless of whether it is expired, which will have 'meter feeder' written on it," Chief McCrohan added that those most affected would be commercial vehicles and the owners and employees of stores who are habitual offenders.

"These meter feeders are going to have to realize that they'll have to park elsewhere. I suggest they park in the outlying areas." He added that the police would not enforce the two-hour limitation from now until Christmas day. Some streets near the business district which have two-hour parking are Wiggins, Park Place, Moore, Alexander, Stockton and Mercer.

Chief McCrohan appealed for cooperation from those working in the business area not to park there. He suggested they use car pools, public transportation or have someone drive them to work.

Other duties of the foot patrol will be to help keep traffic moving, prevent double parking and help pedestrians at intersections. But Chief McCrohan made it clear that the main target would be Princeton's ubiquitous meter-feeder.

TAKES CASE TO COURT

Township Zoning Decision. William H. Konietzko, Jr., 18 Dempsey Avenue, has asked Superior Court to reverse Princeton Township's ruling that he cannot build a house on half an acre of land in a two-acre zone.

property last May as a gift from his aunt, Mrs. Louise Gunther, who had bought it in 1945 from Mr. Konietzko's father.

This was ten years before the zoning ordinance was adopted, and Mr. Konietzko is basing his court case on the fact that the lot exised before the two-acre requirement did.

Mr. Konietzko's father owns land adjoining the lot in question, and the Township Zoning Board has pointed out that if he bought land from his father, Mr. Konietzko could make his under-size lot conform.

Last September, Mr. Konietzko told the Board that his father refused to sell him land because it would spoil his own nine-acre parcel.

The Zoning Board decided that Mr. Konietzko had failed to prove any hardship, and denied him the variance on the ground that development of the small lot would "impair the intent and purpose of the zoning ordinance."

Mr. Konietzko, through his attorney, Garrett Heher, declares that this ruling is "arbitrary, capricious and unreasonable."

TWO ARE FINED

In Borough Court, Two Princeton area drivers were fined Monday by Borough Magistrate Theodore T. Tami Jr.

Mrs. Herbert T. Beryl, 59, 60 Battle Road, was fined $15 for failing to yield while emerging from a private driveway. Arthur G. Down, 37, of the Lawrenceville School, paid $20 for speeding.

At a special hearing held earlier in the week, Magistrate Tams sentenced Jerome McGowan, 19, 246 John Street to 19 days in Mercer County Jail. McGowan was charged with failing to pay a $205 fine which stemmed from a conviction of driving while on a revoked list. He pleaded not guilty.

The Division of Motor Vehicles has suspended, under its point system, the license of George W. Good 3d, 19, 50 Littlebrook Road, for three months. Excessive points also halted George Goodson Jr., 23, of Cranbury, for 40 days.

The Division revoked for 30 days for speeding the license of Wilfred R. Woodward, 2d, 21, North Main Street Cranbury.

FUND DRIVE AT $35,300

For Princeton Hospital. With $35,300 raised, Princeton Hospital's first Annual Giving Fund Appeal is short of the halfway mark to its $75,000 goal. The funds are needed to finance the Hospital's $1.3 million bank loan for the construction of its new patient care wing and for the purchase of special equipment.

Exterior construction of the new building on the Witherspoon Street side of the Hospital is nearing completion. Almost all the outer walls have been completed, and windows have been installed.

Fund president George W. Conover stated that the campaign would continue until the CHRISTMAS SERVICE SET With Ecumenical Theme. The search for world peace and religious understanding will be the theme of the Pennington School annual Christmas Candlelight Carol Service to be held in the school chapel on Saturday at 4:30.

Thirteen foreign students will represent the international desire for peace in an opening procession. Boys of the Roman Catholic, Jewish and Protestant faiths will join in the choir to celebrate the occasion.

Headmaster Dr. Charles R. Smyth will deliver Christmas greetings, and Bishop Prince A. Taylor Jr. will preside at the ceremonies. William O. Rarich, the school's music master, has arranged the musical program.

"A CHRISTMAS CAROL"

Ecroyd to Read. Dr. Donald Ecroyd, professor of speech at Temple University in Philadelphia, will present an informal reading of Charles Dickens' long - time favorite, "A Christmas Carol," next Wednesday, December 21,at 10 a.m. at the Public Library.

Dr. Ecroyd is known to Princetonians for his previous readings of poetry and prose at the library. Coffee will be served, and all are invited. The Library is planning a new series of readings for the months.

ART CLASSES PLANNED

By Studio on the Canal. The winter program of the Art Workshop of the Studio on the Canal is scheduled to begin January 3 and to continue through March 28. There will be classes for children and adults in painting, sculpture, ceramics and wheel throwing.

The studio's new instructor, Maxine Rolsen, will teach ceramics and wheel throwing. She holds a B.A. in art education from the Massachusetts College of Art and an M.A. from Rutgers University. Rex Goreleigh will teach children's painting and adult painting and sculpture.

KNIGHTS TO MEET

To Celebrate Anniversary. Princeton Council Knights of Columbus 636 will celebrate its 60th anniversary on Friday at 8 p.m. at Morris Hall for the Aged in Lawrenceville. The Knights and their Auxiliary, the Columbiettes will present gifts to the residents.

The Council will hold its annual Christmas Party at St. Michael's Hopewell Home on Sunday afternoon. Santa Claus will have gifts for youngsters, and the Notre Dame High School Choraleers will perform. Vincent Gallagher is chairman of the party.

What Do You Think?

Mirror of America, an opinion research organization in Hopewell headed by Dr. George Gallup, is looking for subjects who will answer questions on topics ranging from politics to movies. Members of civic and charitable organizations are especially invited.

Mirror of America will donate $1.25 for each female participant and $2 for each male participant to the subject's organization. Since the center was founded 10 years ago, more than $100,000 has been given to various groups.

Sessions last from an hour and a half to two hours and are scheduled a week in advance. Those interested in participating should write to Mirror of America, Hopewell.

SALES RAISES $4,000

For Princeton Hospital. The Hospital Aid Committee has contributed $4,000, the profits from its October rummage sale, to the hospital. The new gift brings the Committee's 1966 contribution to $26,500.

Since early 1965 when the Committee pledged $133,000 to the Hospital Building Fund, it has raised $57,000. The sum represents the profits from rummage sales and from the Hospital Aid Shop.

The Committee was also responsible for the White Elephant booth at the Hospital Fete. Profits from this concession were given to the Hospital Auxiliary, which managed the affair.

SOROPTIMISTS TO MEET

For Christmas Party. The Soroptimist Club of Princeton will meet for its annual Christmas Party at De Neve Jersey Neuro-Psychiatric Institute on Tuesday evening.

PLANNERS AIR CONCERN

Over Proposed A&P Store. The informal discussion between members of the Princeton Planning Board and representatives of A. & P., which plans to build a new store in the northeast corner of the Princeton Shopping Center, began on a strained, formal note: William K. Davis, A&P executive, was reluctant to talk.

The Planning Board had said it was interested in the plans for the building, in parking, traffic patterns, screening, loading, circulation — the whole ball of wax. When Mr. Davis demurred, Theodore T. Tams, Jr. representing George W. Warnecke, owner of the Center, said Mr. Davis was embarrassed by the questioning because A&P felt it was under the sole jurisdiction of the Zoning Board, which last spring had given permission to build, contingent on several strict stipulations covering parking, traffic patterns and so on — the same areas in which the planners now voiced an interest.

The Planning Board's overriding concern centers on the passage-way between A&P and a proposed extension of Bamberger's, which at its narrowest would measure 90 feet. It seems tailor-made for the creation of a king-size bottleneck.

38,000 Cars A Week. Township Engineer Frank Quinby reported that his department had been taking traffic counts at the entrance nearest Bamberger's. "Thirty-eight thousand cars a week are going into that driveway," he said, "so our fears are based on substantial fact."

A few residents spoke out on screening, and one particular, John Bowen, 508 Terhune Road, made several pointed observations and criticisms. Through it all, Mr. Davis repeated several times that A&P wanted to be a good neighbor. It did not want to be obstructionist in any way, it would take all the comments and observations of the Planning Board under advisement.

"I think" said Chairman Hans Sander in closing, "that somehow, in some way, we will be seeing each other again."

LOW OPERATING COST

Averages 27 miles per gallon of REGULAR gas.
Never needs anti-freeze (air-cooled engine)
Costs less to insure.
Tires last an average of 40,000 miles.
Requires only 2½ quarts of oil.
License plates cost less.

BETTER RESALE VALUE

It's common knowledge that a Volkswagen is worth more than cars costing hundreds of dollars more when you trade or sell it.

DURABILITY

Many Volkswagens in regular use have traveled more than 200,000 miles without major repair.

DEPENDABILITY

With Volkswagen's superb rear engine traction, it travels in snow or mud where other cars can't (even with snow tires).

COMFORT

Because of VW's independent 4-wheel suspension, (usually found in the most expensive cars), a Volkswagen absorbs the bumps and rides like cars weighing twice as much.

Volkswagen's comfortable bucket seats are choir height to give you better visibility and less backstrain.

BEST SERVICE

Volkswagen ever changes for the sake of change (we do, however, keep improving our product) and that's why parts are available for your VW when you need them.

Volkswagen mechanics are thoroughly trained by factory specialists at regular intervals.

Send Christmas Greetings to Viet Nam

As it did last December, TOWN TOPICS again takes pleasure in listing the names and addresses of men from the Princeton area who are currently serving with the armed forces in Viet Nam. Half a world away from home, they will welcome cards or letters from everyone who will take a moment to send them a word of greeting at Christmas-time.

It will cost only the price of a domestic airmail stamp — eight cents — and the Post Office has announced that it will make every effort to speed delivery. Mail sent promptly may still errive for Christmas.

CORNERSTONE PLACED

At Timberlane School. The cornerstone for the new Timberlane Junior School of the Hopewell Valley Regional School District was placed at a ceremony held this week for students, faculty, board of education members and Hopewell citizens. The new school is on the Pennington-Titusville Road.

Officiating at the ceremony were Phillip Alampi, president of the Hopewell Board of Education; Dr. William J. Nunan, superintendent of schools; William K. Schwab, principal of the new school; and Christopher Fisher, representing the students.

Among the articles Christopher placed in the metal box of the cornerstone were copies of the Regionalization Citizens' Committee report, the Regionalization brochure, newspaper clippings, signatures of all students in each home room, pictures of the school, a tape recording of sounds around the school, a report card and a misconduct slip.

The Timberlane School was completed in time for classes this September. The school board drew praise from Governor Hughes and Acting Commissioner of Education Dr. Joseph Clayton for its foresight in providing for the growing educational needs for the area.

The board at its meeting on Monday night voted unanimously to take an option on 53 acres of land to the west of Timberlane School. This is an important step in the committee's master plan for school growth, board members said.

The land will be used as the site for a third secondary school which will provide for a projected enrollment of 3,000 in 1970. The cost of the land will be $97,944.

The sale will be submitted for approval to the voters in February. If it is approved, funds for the purchase will come from budget surpluses and from income bonds which has not been spent.

The three board of education members whose terms expire this year, John Meyers, Rudolph Hertzog and John Cartwright, have announced that they will seek re-election.

With Pageant and Service. Princeton Day School will celebrate the Christmas season this weekend with a Christmas pageant by the Lower School on Thursday at 10 a.m. and the traditional Candlelight Service of the Upper and Middle Schools on Friday at 4. The public is invited to both events.

The Lower School Pageant will include scenes from the Prophecy, the Annunciation, the Decree, the Shepherds, the Kings and the Manger. The musical program will feature carols from Mexico, Chile, Austria and many other regions.

Acting in the pageant will be Sara Bristol, John Joyce, Sarah Blodgett, Bruce Kraut, Jay Wilmerding, Livingston Johnson, Grayson Ferrante and David Beckwith. Singers will be Katharine Kehoe, Davus Yokana, Sarah Williams and Evan Jones. Wylie Aaron and Allison Gilbert will be the instrumentalists. The program director is Mrs. Richard Gilbert, Lower School music director.

Participating in the Candlelight Service will be the Madrigal Singers, the Upper School Glee Club and Choir and the Instrumental Ensemble. Classes five through eight will sing, and the entire school

HISTORAMA MAP of COLONIAL NEW JERSEY
(IN FULL COLOR)

HIGHLIGHTS of the political, social, and industrial history of New Jersey are featured on this pictorial map of "The Garden State."

The map is the result of many years of research by the author, who has also drawn the map.

A border of portrait sketches of all the Governors of the State is attractively presented in chronological order.

Printed in full color, size 25x38, the Historama is ideal for framing as a decorative conversation piece, as well as a valuable guide to New Jersey's colorful history.

CHRISTMAS CONCERT SET

By Princeton High. The music department of Princeton High School will present its annual Christmas concert at the University Chapel on Tuesday at 8 p.m. There will be no admission charge, and all are invited.

The music will range from 13th century to contemporary compositions. The program will begin with Christmas carols played by the Woodwind Ensemble and sung by the Men's Chorus. The Freshman Girls' Chorus will perform under the direction of Miss Karen Johnston, a student teacher at Westminster Choir College.

Benjamin Britten's "Ceremony of Carols" will be performed by Girls' Chorus accompanied by Marian Rian at the harp with Susan Robinson as soloist. The High School Choir will sing the featured work, "Mass In G Minor" by R. Vaughn Williams, as well as other pieces. Soloists will be Ruth Anne Byers, Elizabeth Mulligan, Susan Robinson, Barry Abelson, Keith Conover, Steve Bryant and Tim Mount.

The concert will be concluded with Bach's "Wreck Porth O Beauteous Heavenly Light" and Handel's "Hallelujah Chorus." The choral groups will be conducted by William R. Trega, the orchestra by Sybyn Freeman and the woodwind ensemble by Jack Horner.

CHRISTMAS PROGRAM SET

At John Witherspoon School. The music department of the John Witherspoon School will hold a Christmas program Monday evening at 8 in the school auditorium.

"A Holiday of Songs" will feature glee clubs from grades 3 through 8 and will center around Christmas customs and traditions. Parents and friends of the school are invited to attend.

PIANO RECITAL PLANNED

At New School. Diana Dagert will present a public piano recital at the New School For Music Study on Friday at 8. Her program will include selections from Bach, Mendelsohn and Mozart.

Miss Dagert has been a student in the professional department of the New School for the past two years. She is studying under musical director David Kraehenbuehl.

FUND NEEDS $18,100

Drive Within 4% of Goal. The United Fund-Red Cross campaign has reached 96 percent of its $442,333 goal. With $18,100 necessary to achieve the Fund's seventh consecutive victory, Chairman Arthur N. Curtis emphasized that every contribution is vital.

Residents who have not yet contributed are urged to consider the importance of the Fund to community support. Contributions should be sent to the United Fund office, P.O. Box 201.

TICKETS ON SALE

For Model Train Show. Tickets are currently being sold for the third annual Model Railroad Show of the Pacific Southern Railway to be held Saturday and Sunday in Rocky Hill. The show will benefit the Rocky Hill Fire Company and the Emergency Rescue Squad.

Tickets can be purchased at Marsh and Company, the Nassau Hobby Center, the Trenton Hobby Center, the Model Railroad Shop in Dunnellen, Trackside Specialties in Somerset, Edna's in Rocky Hill, Buster's on Route 206, the Rocky Hill Fire Company and the Rocky Hill Emergency Rescue Squad.

In order to avoid traffic congestion in Rocky Hill, visitors will be transported to and from the show in buses leaving from the Washington Street parking lot of the Princeton Applied Research Corporation.

FLIMFLAM NETS $89

And $92 Check. A flimflam that wasn't in the full sense of the word netted two women $89 and a $92 Social Security check. The victim was Julia Gaines, 197 John Street.

Mrs. Gaines told police she was walking on Witherspoon Street toward the First National Bank on Friday when she was approached by a woman who asked the location of a Social Security office. The latter said she had an $8,000 Social Security check.

Later, Mrs. Gaines reported that a second woman joined them near Palmer Square. They both engaged her in conversation and got very close to her. A few minutes later Mrs. Gaines discovered her wallet containing the check and the cash was missing from her purse. It also contained three rings.

She told police both were Negroes and in their 30's. Chief Peter P. McCrohan warned others to be on the alert for such artists. "This

FINAL NOTICE

Qualification For Voting Membership In

The Princeton Hospital Corporation

Notice is hereby given of the requirements for voting membership in the Princeton Hospital Corporation in accordance with the By-Laws of Princeton Hospital as amended at the annual meeting of the Corporation held on February 25, 1963.

ARTICLE II

VOTING MEMBERSHIP

1. The annual payment by any person of not less than $5.00 directly to the Princeton Hospital Membership Fund during the calendar year preceding the annual election, shall entitle such person to make nominations for the office of Trustee, to one vote for each vacancy in the Board of Trustee which may be filled at any annual meeting, and to vote upon other business which may come before any annual or special meeting of the Corporation during the calendar year of the annual election.

2. The payment by any person of $100.00 or more directly to the Princeton Hospital Membership Fund shall entitle such person to life membership in the corporation and to all other privileges of voting membership without further payment.

3. Notices relative to the membership requirements of the Corporation shall be mailed to all members on or before November 1 of each year.

4. There is no age limitation on membership. In order to be eligible to vote, however, all members, whether annual members of life members, must be at least 21 years of age.

This notice is not a solicitation but is published to inform the public of qualifications for voting membership in the Corporation.

College Needs Rural Setting.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

From what one reads in the paper, there seem to be many reasons why some Trentonians want the Mercer Community College to be located in Trenton. In my view, none of the reasons makes good educational sense.

To an educator, a community college campus needs to be more than tall buildings and black-top. Minimums are not enough. Compromises, though they may help the impersonal city, will hurt every individual student. In compromising standards we would be sacrificing quality, and quality educational opportunity is what all the aspiring youth of Mercer County need, including those young people for whom college is to be a first generation experience. I seriously doubt that the prospect of a twenty-minute bus ride six miles down the road could possibly keep them from it.

In all the discussions favoring Trenton sites, I have seen no good argument taking account of the needs and interests of students. It would be good to keep in mind that providing more education for more youth is the major purpose for bringing the community college into existence. And, of course, special attention to the needs and interests of Negro youth residing in Trenton is absolutely essential if the institution is to make its mark. It is in this very point that one of the strongest arguments in favor of the Assunpink site is to be found.

If we do take careful account of the needs and interests of all groups from which the student population is to be comprised, we certainly must conclude that these needs will best be met in quiet, open, attractively inviting space within which to feed the soul and stretch the mind.

The reason for Philadelphia's six-story buildings is, I daresay, that they truly do not have enough room to do any better. We are fortunate to have as much space as we need in Assunpink Park, only six miles from Trenton's downtown crossroad.

Let's urge the Board of Trustees to decide the site issue on the basis of educationally sound reasoning relevant to all the county. All other factors should be of only secondary importance. Let's not be satisfied with compromise at this point in the game.

Valuable Assistance Given.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

We wonder if dog owners of the wide Princeton area realize their good fortune in having the Princeton Small Animal Rescue League right in their midst. Mrs. A. C. Graves is the League's tireless worker, helping dogs—apparently 24 hours a day.

Mrs. Graves has an unusual understanding of dogs and people and has placed many hundreds of lost or unwanted animals in good and appropriate homes. She even cheerfully helped find homes for a number of unwanted dogs from this area which is a good way from Princeton. Her theory, "If a dog needs a home, I'll try to get him one—his original location is unimportant."

The Princeton Small Animal Rescue League (a private, non-profit organization receiving no public funds) merits and needs support. It does an excellent job.

News Of The CHURCHES

RECTOR RESIGNS

From Trinity Parish. The Rev. Canon Robert S. Spears Jr., rector of Trinity Episcopal Parish, has accepted his election as suffragan bishop of the West Missouri diocese.

Elected at a special diocesan convention on November 15, he notified Trinity wardens and vestry of his decision last Wednesday, at the same time wiring his consent to the Rev. Edward R. Welles, bishop of West Missouri, under whom he will serve.

No date has been set for his move to the diocese headquarters in Kansas City. Consents from all bishops and dioceses of the Episcopal Church to the election and consecration of the bishop-elect must first be secured by the Rt. Rev. John E. Hines, the denomination's presiding bishop.

When this process is completed, Bishop Hines will set a date for the consecration, presumably to take place in the spring of 1967.

VIET NAM AID IS TOPIC

At Jewish Center. Rabbi Everett Gendler, who has recently agreed to serve as a sponsor of a project to provide aid to the suffering in both South and North Viet Nam, will discuss "Humanitarian Aid to Viet Nam: A Project" at the 8:15 p.m. service this Friday at the Princeton Jewish Center.

Sponsored by the Fellowship of Reconciliation, the project also includes territory under the control of the National Liberation Front. There will be an opportunity for discussion immediately following the sermon.

Rev. Dr. Robert S. Spears

CANDLE SERVICE SET

At St. Andrew's Church. A candlelight service will be held at 4:30 Sunday at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church. The community is invited to attend.

Buxtehude's Christmas cantata, "Das Neugeborne Kindelein," will be sung by the chancel choir. The youth choir and the senior high bell choir will also participate in the service, which will be devoted to the Christmas story told through scripture, carols and music.

The annual "White Gift Service" will be held at 10:30 a.m. on Sunday with the Rev. Hugh Liffiton preaching. His topic is "Surprised by Joy."

The gifts, a project of the Church School, will be sent to church schools in the Appalachia area, where the Rev. Richard Hattrick is working. Items include new or used toys in good condition, as well as games for older children and teens that can be distributed as gifts or sold in a second-hand clothing store. Funds raised by the stores provide for recreation activities for the Community Center. Interested individuals are invited to join in the project.

FAMILY DAY PLANNED

At Lawrenceville Church. A Christmas family gathering will be held Sunday at Lawrenceville Presbyterian Church. Activities will begin at 2:30 with decorating the church interior, with Christmas greens. A family supper is scheduled for 5, followed by a family Bible reading service and carol singing in the sanctuary at 6 p.m.

Mrs. Joseph Golding and Mrs. Leonard Mass will coordinate the church decoration. Mrs. Everett Hires is in charge of the covered-dish supper. All families are asked to bring their own table service.

The pastor, the Rev.. H. Dana Fearon, and Patrick Thyne, assistant, will lead the family service. All participants should bring their own Bible for the optional Bible reading.

Members of the community are invited to attend.

MEN'S CLUB TO MEET

At Jewish Center. There will be a breakfast session of the Men's Club of the Princeton Jewish Center at 9:30 Sunday at the Center.

Officers this year are Bernie Gerb president; Melvin Bender, vice-president; Frank Rosenbloom, treasurer; and Arthur L. Fein treasurer.

Committee chairmen include Ben Goldstein, membership; Leroy Greenspan, program; Jerome Lewis, publicity; Herbert Gurk, membership. Otto Kaufman, Nathan Kasrel and Jerry Kirsh are trustees.

is the time of the year when these people are most prevalent," he said. "They hang around banks looking for potential 'pigeons' so they can nip them."

ANTIQUE BARN TARGET

Of Thieves. The Antique Barn at 33 Witherspoon Road was broken into during the weekend by someone who climbed a back porch and broke a second floor window. The incident was reported by the owner, Mrs. Ludwell H. Gilmer, 84 Alexander Street.

Police said the intruders rumaged through a pile of magazines and then entered an inside door and combed the rest of the building. Mrs. Gilmer will compile a list of stolen articles for the police.

STATE HALTS FIVE

For Speeding. The Division of Motor Vehicles has suspended the license of five Princeton area drivers for speeding.

Three lost their licenses for 30 days. They are Carleton H. Seager, 23, 43 Park Place; Gary Froehlich, 17, Hightstown Road, Princeton Junction; and Lloyd M. Geisert 28, of Cranbury. John K. Metzger Jr., 23, 65 West Broad Street, Hopewell, surrendered his for 60 days, while John R. Dallepezze, 23, 415 Franklin Avenue, was convicted in Connecticut under a reciprocity agreement. He lost his license for one month.

Paul M. Geiger, 27, RCA Labs, had his license suspended for one year for drunken driving in Delaware. Under the point system, Bruce W. Sandvik, 25, RD 1, lost his license for three months.

SALES BENEFIT POOR

Dolls, Bags. Leather handbags, stuffed dolls and children's clothes are being sold at 277 Nassau this year on behalf of Liberty House Crafts, the Mississippi co-operative.

The handbags, at $32.50, are hand made of fine suede, as are the $1.50 leather earrings for covered or unpierced ears. Poncho smocks in denim or stripes, have been made for toddlers and youngsters up to age seven. Prices are $2 each.

Calico or print dresses for little girls are $4. The stuffed dolls, white and Negro, are $3 a pair, or $4.95 each.

Liberty House's craftsmen are former Mississippi domestics, farm laborers or sharecroppers, who had worked previously on a salary of less than $15 a week. The articles they make are offered in Princeton by Mrs. Margaret Scott.

GIFTS SOUGHT

For Hopewell Needy. The Hopewell Valley Committee for Emergency Needs is seeking Christmas gifts to distribute to needy families in the area.

The Committee is asking particularly for contributions of toys, canned goods and other food and cash, which will be used to purchase food. Among the recipients of the gifts will be a Hopewell family whose father is unable to support eight children while his wife is seriously ill in the hospital.

Those wishing to contribute should call Mrs. Frank Trimble, 737-3237, in Titusville; Richard E. Peterson, 737-3186, Mrs. Sadie Dunn, 737-3277, or Mrs. Cynthia Ward, 737-2468, in Pennington; Mrs. Bart Johnson, 466-1022 and Mrs. John P. Johnson, 466-1861, in Hopewell.

PAINTINGS ON DISPLAY

At Highgate Apartments. An exhibition of paintings by various media by Carol Teft has been set up in the public rooms, a new apartment house located in Ewing Township. The display is open to the public every day from 1 to 5.

Included in the show are works in oil, ink, charcoal and pencil. Miss Teft comes from Alexandria, Va., and began painting at American University in Washington, D. C. She showed at first with the well-known painter and lithographer Jack Perlmutter.

PLAN BOOK COLLECTION

For Home for Girls. The John Witherspoon Parent-Teachers Association is sponsoring a book collection for the State Home for Girls in Trenton.

The girls, 12 to 18, need books for study and pleasure. Sought are such books as up-to-date texts, Spanish books, all paperbacks in good condition, career stories, especially about nurses and airline stewardesses and books for younger children. For older readers, love stories, mysteries, short stories, fairy tales, poems, and books of riddles and jokes.

Collection boxes will be located at churches and schools and other convenient sports around town.

Obituaries

Dr. Archibald T. MacAllister, 61, professor of Italian at Princeton University, died suddenly on December 13 at Princeton Hospital. Prof. MacAllister taught all the courses in Italian literature at the University and served as director of the Morton Language Laboratory.

An authority on the mythology of language teaching, Prof. MacAllister was an important figure in the development of the University's modern language teaching programs emphasizing the spoken language. He was the founder of the Northeast Conference on the Teaching of Foreign Languages and served as an advisor to public school systems on language teaching methods.

Although he covered almost all phases of Italian literature in his courses, Prof. MacAllister's writings concentrated primarily on Dante. He contributed the article on the Italian bard to the "Dictionary of Moral Philosophy" and wrote the introduction to John Ciardi's translation of "Inferno" and "Purgatorio."

He began his career as an instructor in Italian at Yale, where he earned his A.B. and Ph.D. degrees. He joined the Princeton faculty in 1940 as an assistant professor and was given tenure in 1956.

Dr. MacAllister served on dozens of committees and organizations dealing with languages and language teaching. He served as chief examiner in Italian for the College Entrance Examination, as chairman of the Fulbright Program's selection committee and in many other positions.

Prof. MacAllister is survived by his wife, the former Lorita E. Bates; a daughter, Mrs. Lamore F. Parker of Manchester, Mass., and three grandchildren.

A private service will be held at the Kimble Funeral Home. A memorial service will be held in the University Chapel on a date in January to be announced.

John H. Cray, 80, of 61 Fisher Avenue, died on December 12 in Princeton Hospital after a brief illness. He was the husband of the late Mrs. Kathryn D. Cray.

Born in Harlingen, Mr. Cray lived in Princeton for 70 years. He owned and operated Cray's Garage in Princeton for 40 years. He was a member of Princeton Methodist Church, a 50-year member of Hook and Ladder Company No. 1, the Exempt Firemen's Association of Princeton and Nassau Lodge 106, IOOF.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. John Chasko of Princeton; a brother, Lewis H. Cray of St. Petersburg, Fla., and two grandsons.

The service will be held at 11 a.m. this Thursday at the Mather Funeral Home, the Rev. Dr. Leon Gibson of Princeton Methodist Church officiating. Interment will be in Princeton Cemetery.

Beauty on the Square

Today, just as four centuries ago, owning a wig is a mark of high style. It has become a vital part of a chic woman's wardrobe!

Queen Elizabeth had as many as 80 wigs which she wore over her shaved head.

No longer in the luxury class, wigs are the modern answer for looking glamorous when the need arises.

Now a woman can have a beautiful coiffure while traveling, for the unexpected party; after swimming, or for the other times when her own hair is in a state of collapse or is growing out.

Pick the right beauty salon for beautiful hair. Hundreds of people know that means getting your hair done at . . .

A Volkswagen, obviously.

It's easy to spot a VW. It's the one that keeps moving through the snow.

A VW will go up icy hills when other cars won't go at all. The engine is in back, where it gives the rear wheels much better traction.

And because the VW engine is cooled with air, not water, there's no need for anti-freeze. No chance of the block cracking. (No boiling over in summer.) No draining. No flushing. No rust. You can park a VW outdoors in sub-zero weather and it's ready to roll as soon as you turn the key.

If there isn't any ice and snow around when you try a VW, don't think you can't judge the car's extraordinary abilities. Just came in and take a VW for a run. Through some sand or mud.

SKATERS LOSE ANOTHER

Bow to Providence, 4-3. Twice failing to hold a lead Princeton's hockey team dropped its third game of the season Tuesday night to Providence College, 4 to 3, in Baker Rink. It was a case of a lost opportunity for the Tiger skaters, because the visitors from Rhode Island were clearly one of the few teams with which they will be evenly matched this year.

The Orange and Black outshot the victors, 37 to 26, but rarely was able to take advantage of seemingly continuous chances around the Friars' cage. Providence Goalie Frank Trudeau spent most of the evening in a prone position fighting off Tiger thrusts, as the home team kept the attack in enemy territory a majority of the time. The light, however, glowed only thrice.

Other Sports
on Pages 56-61

After falling behind with 15 he sustained a badly cut nose. minutes gone in the opening Sad Nick Arcaro, 156 pounder round, Princeton drew even was pinned after having been 45 seconds later when Mike far ahead on points. Wiggins tallied while the visitors were a man short. John Ritchie put the Tigers ahead briefly in the second period with a quick backhand flip, and after Providence drew even at 2-all, Ritchie got the Tigers in front again with 2:21 to go in the game.

Providence dominated the action thereafter, however, scoring at 5:01 and 7:00. Both goals were the results of rebounds which the Princeton defense failed to control.

PHS FIVE WINS, 51-49

In Overtime at Franklin. Last year at Franklin township, Princeton High School defeated the Warriors to basketball in triple overtime, 76-74. Tuesday afternoon, a week after it had defeated Franklin on the home court, PHS won again at Franklin and again in overtime, 51-49.

This time the Little Tigers needed just one extra period. Only two points were scored in the five-minute span, a free throw by Tom Wood and another by Tom Toner. Franklin missed on two one-and-one situations.

Down by six points with 1:31 to go in regulation time, Marty Hines tied it with his shot in the closing seconds. At the end of the first eight minutes, PHS led 13-9 but it spent the remainder of the game trying to catch the home team which drew even at 18-18 and then went ahead.

Wood was high for the Blue and White (now 2-2) with 18, while Hines was almost as productive with 17. Yoder had 7, Rich Volt, Friday's high scorer with 17, was limited to three. Even more eye-opening was the 54-point of Jeff Bullock. Bullock, the only player to reach double figures in Princeton's first three outings, was shut out.

A 19-for-32 effort from the foul line kept PHS in the contest, as its floor play was ragged and it allowed the shorter Warriors to outrebound it 31 to 23. Franklin's chances to pull it out were lolled by the loss of three of its starters, one in the fourth period and two in overtime. The defeat was its second in three contests.

MATMEN LOSE THRILLER

Notre Dame Wins, 26-24. Had Princeton High's heavyweight, Rick Sisco, pinned his opponent instead of decisioning him, PHS would have tied Notre Dame's wrestling, 26-26. As it was, it lost its second match in three days Tuesday by two points.

Steve Fox, 106 lbs.; Bob Moore, 123 lbs.; and Ross Bayer, 147, registered pins for the Little Tigers. Hank Wilkinson, Marty Heitner and Sisco carried decisions. Bob Barclay lost a 1-0 match in the 141-pound class, in which Miss Ethel Turnbull, 35 Olden Lane. He was long an associate of the Joseph T. Day Realty Company.

Also surviving are two nieces, Mrs. John Vollherbst and Miss Camilla Turnbull, both of Princeton.

A private service was held in Trinity Episcopal Church. The Rev. E. Sterry Auer officiated. Interment was in Princeton Cemetery under direction of the Mather Funeral Home.

George C. Donsmanis, 37, of 28 Forester Drive, died on December 9 in Princeton Hospital after a brief illness. He was the husband of Mrs. Marilyn D. Donsmanis.

Born in Aighion, Greece, Dr. Donsmanis was a solid state physicist at RCA in Penns Neck. He received a bachelor's degree in 1951, a master's degree in 1953 and a doctorate in 1956, all from Columbia University. He was a member of St George's Greek Orthodox Church, New Brunswick.

Also surviving are two sons, Christos G. and Thanos G.; a daughter, Miss Alexandra P., all at home; his parents Christos and Angeline Donsmanis of Aighion, and a brother and two sisters, also in Greece.

Funeral services were held in Rohester, N. Y., with interment in Riverside Cemetery there. The Mather Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

C. Lester Miller, 80, of 41 Phillips Avenue, Lawrenceville, died on December 7 in Helene Fuld Hospital, Trenton. He was the husband of Mrs. Margaret H. Miller.

Born in Greentown, Pa., Mr. Miller served for 30 years with the maintenance department of the Lawrenceville School. He was a member of Princeton Lodge 38, F. & A.M.

Surviving are a daughter Mrs. Edward Hibbs of Barry Avenue, a stepdaughter, Elizabeth Wailes of Lawrenceville; a brother, Glenn H. Miller of Pennington; six grandchildren and five great grandchildren.

The service was held at the Mather Funeral Home, the Rev. Herbert J. Anderson of Wallingboro officiating. Interment was in the Lawrenceville Cemetery.

Robert R. McDonough, 25, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul G. McDonough of River Road, Titusville, died on December 8 of injuries received in a truck accident the same day near New Brunswick. He was operating a tractor owned by Paul Baney of Princeton Junction. He served in the U. S. Navy aboard the Carrier Kearsarge that figured in the recovery of several teams of astronauts.

Also surviving are a sister, Sharon, at home; five brothers, Paul Jr., with the Army in Viet Nam, Ronald C. of Columbus, Russell, Chris and Craig, at home.

The service was held in Pennington, the Rev. Roland C. Strang of the Titusville Methodist Church officiating. Interment was in the church cemetery.

Mrs. Elizabeth Y. Herron of 246 Witherspoon Street died on December 7 in Princeton Hospital. She was the wife of Collie Herron.

A Princeton resident for 40 years, Mrs. Herron was a member of Mt. Pisgah AME Church and Acorn Chapter 8, Order of the Eastern Star and was a former president of the Friendship Club. She was an active participant in the United Church Women of Princeton.

The service was held in Mt. Pisgah Church, the Rev. Marcus F. Stokes officiating. Interment was in Princeton Cemetery under direction of the Kimble Funeral Home.

Mrs. Florence E. Walker, 74, of King George Road, Pennington died on December 7 after a lengthy illness.

Surviving are a son, Robert N. Walker, with whom she lived; a brother, Paul S. Robinette of Oneido, O., and three grandchildren.

The service was held in Telford.

Mrs. Helen B. Palmer, 82, of 111 Birch Avenue, died on December 6.

Surviving are four nieces, Mrs. Lena Gale, Mrs. Bertha Collins, Mrs. Ethel Stockett and Mrs. Mamie Johnson, all of Princeton, and two nephews of Malvern, Pa.

The service was held in the First Baptist Church, the Rev. William Parker officiating. Interment was in Princeton Cemetery.

Mrs. Katherine E. Earl, 81, died on December 7 at her home, 301 Franklin Avenue.

She was born in Penns Neck and was the widow of Fred R. Earl.

A brother, Robert H. Engelke of Penns Neck, survives her.

The service was held at the Mather Funeral Home, the Rev. Walter J. Carvin of Princeton Baptist Church at Penns Neck officiating. Interment was in Penns Neck Cemetery.

George Briel Jr., 61, of Alexander Road, died on December 8 in Princeton Hospital, Trenton. The husband of Mrs. Hester F. Briel, he was a bookkeeper for the Public Service Electric & Gas Company in Trenton.

Also surviving are a son, G. Barry Briel of Princeton; his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Briel, and a brother, Alfred Briel, both of Trenton and three granddaughters.

The service and interment were at the convenience of the family.

PUT YOUR CHRISTMAS TREE UNDER THIS PRETTY PACKAGE. It'll take a lot of red ribbon for a bow on this Christmas package and what a perfect present it is. Cozy and warm with three different living rooms (all with handsome fireplaces). Big dining room sunny kitchen. Four lovely double bedrooms, two and one half baths. There's more to this story. Let us tell you all about it. $60's

A RANCH IN THE BOROUGH? Don't look for grazing cattle and tumblin' tumbleweed; that's not the kind of ranch we mean, DO look for a snug frame house on a pretty lot, a completely fenced and private back yard, and a covered portico. Entry hall, living room with fireplace, dining room, comfortable, modern kitchen, a playroom, PLUS a 14x16 second living room with a beautiful cathedral ceiling to hold a huge old-fashioned Christmas tree. Three good bedrooms and two tile baths make the whole picture of simplicity and comfort, easy maintenance and convenience. $39,500

TRADITIONAL TWO STORY HOUSE! The area is incomparable if you are looking for a location that is close in and convenient to Township schools. Bright and spacious living room with fireplace, formal dining room, modern kitchen large enough to feast in when not being formal, paneled family room opening to screened porch, 4 bedrooms, 2½ baths, a tiled floor basement to play in, and a two-car garage. You can have all this on a wooded, private lot for $52,000

HERE'S WHAT'S IN IT FOR YOU: 5 bedrooms (one cozily lined with bookcases to make a snug study), 2½ baths. Partly sized living room with fireplace, glass-walled dining room opening to covered terrace with view into the woods, equipped kitchen, big children's playroom. Oversized garage, hill dry cellar. Two wooded acres in the Western Township.

WITH SNOW ON THE ROOF AND A WREATH ON THE DOOR: This handsome small townhouse would make a pretty picture on next year's Christmas card. Tucked away on one of Princeton's most attractive and least traveled little streets, it was built some 15 years ago by a most respected builder. Inside, an admirably proportioned living room with fireplace opens to a delightful big screened porch which shares with the dining room and kitchen a sunny southern outlook across the rear garden. A cozy little study with adjoining powder room complete the ground floor, while upstairs there are 3 bedrooms (including a really large master room), and a good tiled bath. Attic, cellar and garage. Just made available by a New York bank to settle an estate $39,500

NOW CIVILIZED! To linger over cocktails in the living room before a crackling fire and to quietly sip your coffee in the study with the children happily off by themselves in their own comfortably paneled playroom. For sit-down dinners, there's the bay-windowed dining room just across the wide center hall. The kitchen is well equipped and includes a sunny breakfast nook. Upstairs there are 4 bedrooms (including a 22 foot long master bedroom amply endowed with closets), and 2 baths. Lovely ¾ acre in Princeton Township with woods and brook
$55,000

SANCTUARY: for songbirds, pheasant and deer at the moment, this secluded lot of one and two thirds acres at the end of Snowden Lane would be just the place for a family to build. Abounding with trees of every sort, it has been for some years the site of a charming small house which was, unhappily, recently damaged by fire. The garage and masonry foundations and walls are still intact, however, and these, plus the driveway and well, might make a good starting point for the house you've dreamed about. To any case it's a delightful spot and the possibilities are many.
$21,500

ONE THOUSAND, THREE HUNDRED AND THIRTY-SEVEN TREES FOR SALE: along with the creggy 1½ acre hillside on which they grow in Princeton's Northwestern Township. We haven't actually counted all those trees, there are just too many, but that's the effect they give. This building site is really a beauty, perfectly suited to a dramatic contemporary. Sewer and water available.
$17,500

THE GLASS-WALLED GARDEN ROOM: is only one of the things that make this fine Borough one story an interesting buy. Some others: quarry tile floored foyer, cathedral ceilinged living room with fireplace, separate dining room, super kitchen with breakfast area, family room, 3 bedrooms and 2 baths. Central air-conditioning, well planted lot, perfect maintenance. Available immediately at

NUTCRACKER AT BAY: The Nutcracker hero battles with the Mouse King villain in Tschaikowsky's Christmas ballet and as all good boys and girls know, the Nutcracker wins after heroine Clara tosses a well-placed slipper. At McCarter this weekend, but "sold out."

News Of The THEATRES

A TICKET FROM SANTA Shakespeare? Cole Porter? Stick a ticket in a Christmas stocking, or better still, a pair of tickets in a pair of stockings. The obliging Santa is McCarter Theatre, with its annual "January Jubilee" ahead. Here's what you can buy:

P.D.Q. Bach, Thursday, December 29—balcony sold out. This is the musical spoof you've read about. There will be an orchestra, a singing group called the Okay Chorale, and a program including the "Unbegun Symphony" and "Iphigenia in Brooklyn." The musical lowpoint of the season.

Silver Skis, Friday, January 6. Color film of the high and snowy slopes, narrated in person by John Jay.

The Play of Daniel, Saturday, January 7 in Alexander Hall. The 12th-century hit features the New York Pro Musica. It will be a fully staged and costumed production.

Men and Women of Shakespeare, Sunday, January 15. Sir John Gielgud and Irene Worth in Sir John's production modeled on his "Ages of Man" solo reading. Program comprises a wide range of excerpts from plays and sonnets.

Isaac Stern, Monday, January 16. This will be Stern's first McCarter recital in five seasons.

Cole Porter, Saturday, January 21. "The Decline and Fall of the Entire World as Seen through the Eyes of Cole Porter, Revisited"—and how's that for a marquee? It's the 1965 off-Broadway musical hit.

Bolshoi Ballet, Sunday, January 22. The filmed version of the Bolshoi's version of Prokofiev's "Cinderella" has been done, uncut, in full color. Raisa Struchkova in the lead role.

"SHAM ON WRY" Triangle Scores. That inevitable pun in the title of the Princeton Triangle Club's annual extravaganza is inelsively appropriate this year. "Sham on Wry" is like a big ham sandwich with everything on it: haphazardly put together and not very nourishing, but easy to consume and irresistibly appetizing.

The spirited student company gave four sell-out performances last weekend at McCarter Theatre and will return, after its annual tour, for a final rendition on Monday, January 2.

Eschewing such restrictive theatrical conventions as coherent plot or unified themes, the 78th Triangle show draws from diverse aspects of campus culture ranging from Busby Berkley to Lenny Bruce to create a lively, anything-goes production which apotheosizes the inane.

Slapstick clowning, punning, topical jokes, theatrical parodies, extravagant dances and the traditional male kick-line are among the ingredients of "Sham on Wry". Mad scientists, a wicked queen, a student protester, a pack of matadoons, a troll and an army of huns all mingle amusingly on the McCarter stage.

Satire Serves Absurdity. There are some pointed topical ribs, but more often than not, the satire is tempered to serve the purpose of absurdity. Professor Bogo von Prospect and his colleagues "turn on" to dance and sing the merits of LSD in "Psychedelightful", but the stimulant turns out to be just saccharine on a sugar cube, a very important ingredient in this bizarre cuisine.

Sometimes with nonchalant wit, sometimes with unabashed corn, "Sham on Wry" takes on student demonstrators ("you can't just sit, man. You've got to sit in"); television commercials (with a chorus of dancing pills singing "Take us; We're yours!") and almost every other subject that seems ripe for ribbing.

The excuse for all the nonsense is a rickety plot involving an easy-going incompetent who escapes from the pressures of late adolescence by entering the dream world of faraway, the land of the superhappy. Complications ensue as the status quo is threatened by an invasion of the inhabitants of Muchtomorr, the domain of the mean and miserable.

As the hero, Tom Hudnut is very amusing as he wanders about with an air of studied stupidity. Bill Paternotte effectively portrays the muscular, mop-haired ingenue, Drivel. Three of the most hilarious minor characterizations were those of Paul Sheren as a fatuous parent, the director of a happiness institute and a brainwasher who loves his work.

Chorus Highly Enthusiastic

Triangle president, Jay Kerr, who is responsible for some of the songs, is also highly amusing in three minor roles. The dancing of the chorus more than makes up in enthusiasm what it lacks in precision. Granville Burgess was one standout in this talented group.

Six writers are responsible for the book, music and lyrics. President Jay Kerr has written the two songs which are at once the most appealing and the corniest, "Faraway" and "Why Doth It Rain Under My Umbrella?" Barry Miles, a sophomore who is already an established professional musician, has given two of the numbers a sharp, jazzy tone which is new to Triangle shows. Mr. Miles also plays the drums in the excellent orchestra.

Director Milton Lyon deserves credit for maintaining the lively pace throughout the show, and choreographer Peter Hamilton has contributed appropriately spectacular dance numbers. Donald Field has created some remarkable lighting effects.

"Shum on Wry" is a powerful answer to the "Daily Princetonian"'s headline of two weeks ago, "Now Playing at McCarter: Rigor Mortis". Whatever else can be said about it, McCarter's latest bill, from its corny songs to its celebrated male chorus line, is very much alive and kicking.

— William H. Simon

"ABSURD" DUO SET

By New Group. Eugene Ionesco's "Foursome" and Harold Pinters "The Room," early examples of the Theater of the Absurd," will be performed by the New Group for Theatre Thursday and Friday at 9 in Murray Theatre on the University campus.

The production, directed by Susan Rosenbaum, includes in the cast Scotty Bloch, Donald Evans, Bernard and Marie Miller, Robert Knapp and Robert Peck. Admission is 20 cents for high school students and $1 for others. Seats are unreserved.

TRADITION CONTINUED: The famous high-kick chorus line, long a feature of Princeton Triangle Club shows, is a major asset of "Sham on Wry." Triangle's male chorus "beauties" graced the stage of the old Metropolitan Opera House in New York during the 1920's, when the show first gained national attention.

APA PAIR COMING

Harris, Rabb, Rosemary Harris and Ellis Rabb, leading actress and director of the APA Repertory Company, will participate in a symposium at McCarter Theatre on the nature of comedy on January 18 in McCarter Theatre.

The symposium is open to all regular subscribers to McCarter Theatre's repertory series. It will be held from noon to 5 p.m. on Wednesday, January 18.

Both Mr. Rabb and Miss Harris — who are a husband-and-wife team — played McCarter in 1960 with their APA company, then a fledgling repertory group. APA has since achieved critical acclaim off-

Swingers All

Swing a mobile, hang a hanging, mount a favorite picture. Use the wall and ceiling for a little something interesting around the house.

Gourmet. Shaved wood cats (imagine a shaved cat!) with brushky whiskers and curly tails; feathery owls; birds made of larch cones with paper wings and that leather monkey with his long, unspiraling tail — let them all dance in the holiday air.

Ambleside. Harry Bolmer's free-form cage of striated metal bars suspended from a chain. (Mr. Bolmer is a local iron-monger, as you know.)

Viking. The prize here is a hanging chandelier of lucite which looks like an exquisite lesson in spherical geometry, with finely etched lines covering each lucite surface. A single, candle light bulb is all you need because of all the reflecting surfaces.

Country Mouse. "God Jul" reads the Scandinavian hanging, done in sharp Swedish primary colors on fine linen.

Bahadurian. A rare beauty of a Dagistan prayer rug, in warm orange-red tones. Hang it on your wall as an inspiration for meditation. It's slightly over 3 x 5 feet, $140.

Farkouh. Just to carry the mobile and hanging concept to absurdity, here's a batch of magnetic potholders for the kitchen, ready to cling to any surface. In Christmas scenes or year-round solids.

Country Mouse, as always, is proud of its genuine bayberry candles with that lovely, delicate scent. These can be mailed in C. Mouse boxes, as you know. Bob Hill's ombre Polde Rol sectional candles are nice as single display pieces—lots of colors to choose from.

That mistletoe ball has bells to warn you who's coming. But you'll sneak up on the giant red-white striped knit sock, all of four feet long. What a boot!

Another sock to fill is a furry red one made of orlon pile just like a robe. Princeton Gift has these, too.

Hang Them All. For your tree, C. Mouse has hand-decorated Christmas balls festooned with velvet ribbons and gold, $3.95 and $5.50, and with a bit of mistletoe on the tip, they could do double-duty . . .

Clusters of red grapes hang tantalizingly from the hooks of a shining brass babeche that goes around the neck of your candlestick. Brass shines again in wall sconces for any of those C. Mouse candles.

Frosted candle cylinders at Happy House are decorated with fruit, Madonna scenes or the geometrics of stained glass. A giant golden wood candlestick holds a huge red twist of a candle a foot high. Tapers in red or colors, slim beauties 28 inches long, stubby twists — candles aplenty everywhere. A wreath for your table has half a dozen six-inch candles — rather Scandinavian in feeling.

And you might set a holiday table with Happy House's unusual Christmas paper plates. These are more elegant than the usual paper plate, designed with a plain white center and

LIGHTS THAT SHINE

A Gift For Your House. The herald angel of your Christmas decorating this year is probably the 18-inch arch-angel from Cummins, robed in folds of cloth of gold and carrying a garland of Della Robia fruits.

Baroque gold highlights Cummins this year, from that angel right on down. A gold-encrusted orb with rubies on each side is worth a special spot on the tree, probably surrounded by tinsel garlands in gold, silver or foil. How about that swag three inches thick and a foot and a half long?

An antiqued gold wooden plaque is the background for a herald angel — this one with trumpet — painted in the most muted reds and deep greens.

Golden bows, birds in clear glass balls, a glass peacock with a white preen of tail-feathers and even two-inch angels in detailed gold (six for $1, only!) will brighten your Cummins Christmas. Our favorite, really, is the golden egg, just like an Easter egg with little figures inside.

Music in the Air. While you trim your tree, play one of Cummins' music - boxes. Most of them this year play non-Christmas music, like "Tales from the Vienna Woods," but there are carols-singers, too.

Boxes at Cummins begin at about $12.95 — that's the one with the Swiss scene on the top and Mozart in the works. A handsome wooden box, inlaid, with visible mechanism, is $45 and there is a Cadillac of a music-box for $100, in a fine inlaid wooden box.

The music-boxes you associate with Christmas — the circular ones with hand-carved children (there's discipline for you!) — are in charming supply at Cummins.

The candle-of-the-year in this shop is a 14-inch giant, hollowed all through the center to provide a frame for the angel suspended in the glitter-lined cavern.

Country Mouse and Happy House have a behemoth of a candle. It looks more like a canister than anything, measuring five full inches in diameter and standing about six inches high. Red or green, $5.95.

and-on Broadway, currently playing Pirandello's "Right You Are."

The symposium in January will begin with a welcome from Dr. Max Bogart, co-ordinator for the Arts-Humanities Project of the New Jersey State Department of Education. He will be followed by McCarter's Executive Director, Arthur Ballough, who will outline the spring drama series, "The Spectrum of Comedy."

Alan Downer, chairman of the English Department at Princeton, will give the keynote speech and Mr. Babb and Miss Harris will join with Dr. Bogart in a panel discussion.

Additional information may be obtained from McCarter.

PLAYHOUSE

Seconds (Today through Saturday) can be taken as a sheer horror film, or a morality tale, or both. The theme is mankind's dream of having a second chance at life, to assume a new identity and make things turn out better all around.

The film is based on David Ely's novel of the same name which imagines a secret organization set up for the purpose of giving a new existence in rich but dissatisfied middle-aged men. A "death" is arranged for him, a corpse being supplied; his insurance is turned over to his family as well as the organization, which then — following plastic surgery on the client — sets him up in another part of the country with an entirely different occupation.

Rock Hudson is the New York banker transplanted to California as a painter. John Randolph plays the hero before surgery (at which point Hudson takes over the role) and he creates a vivid picture of a distraught man eager yet fearful of rebirth. Will Geer is eerie as the philosophical head of the secret group, and Salome Jens is the provocative woman who reduces Hudson.

The film is different enough to keep the viewer interested yet repelled at much of the on-screen proceedings.

The Liquidator (opens Sunday) is an escapist film with plenty of excitement and a clever climax. Rod Taylor, Trevor Howard and Jill St. John star.

The plot concerns a British intelligence unit that takes justice into its own hands by killing suspected security risks.

THE LIQUIDATOR: Rod Taylor learns to shoot from an upside down position in the spy thriller novel the Prince and coming to the Playhouse Sunday.

SECONDS: Salome Jens is the beauty-with-a-price in the horror film about a second chance in life, now at the Princeton Playhouse.

rather than take a chance that a jury might acquit the man it could have been handled with seriousness, making a chilling tale of professional killers, but this approach brought down a barrage of morals protests. Instead, the film takes on a tongue-in-cheek aspect, resulting in a spy story that few will take seriously. The film carries a Green Sheet rating suitable for adults and mature youth.

LOCAL BUS COMPANY PLANS TRIP TO SEE NEW YORK CHRISTMAS LIGHTS

Suburban Transit, by popular request announced plans to repeat its annual guided tours to the fabulous Christmas light displays in New York City. Make the trip the comfortable way, they suggest. Go by Bus! Enjoy restful and luxurious travel . . . forget the worrisome chore of fighting traffic . . . and above all, forget your parking problems.

Everything that stands for Christmas is magnified a thousand times in New York, says Suburban. Millions and millions of twinkle lights sparkle like candles on a giant tree, carols ring out through the crisp air. Let us help you see the magnificent 65-foot tree at the Rockefeller Center . . . we'll show you animated store window displays that have been touched with a magic wand . . . we'll drive you down Park Avenue's shimmering line of trees . . . we'll see the wonderful evergreen forest at Segram Plaza . . . we'll see the floodlit statues on Central Park South . . . the magnificent decorations on Fifth Avenue.

We will also see Macy's lovely animated Christmas windows between 34th and 35th Streets on Broadway.

Suburban offers reserved seats at $3.25.

Buses will leave from Nassau and Witherspoon Sts. across from suburban terminal at 6 p.m. on Dec 19, 20, 21, 22, 26, 27, 28 & 29.

Suburban Transit mentioned that the minimum number of passengers per bus will be 30. They reserve the right to cancel any trip and will make full refunds if insufficient number of people purchase tickets.

Ample time will be allowed for you to visit the Tree at Rockefeller Center, the Forest of Lights at Segram's Building, the Pink Carousel (special treat for the children), and animated displays at Macy's and Altman's windows. Coffee stop will be made on return trip to Princeton.

Suburban invites you to call 924-7750 for further information

Make Mine Oil

A Texan and his wife, window - shopping in Princeton, stopped at a shop the other day to look over the Christmas ornaments.

After a brief time of browsing and choosing, they walked out — with $400 worth of purchases. Not gifts and stocking-stuffers, mind you: just tree ornaments.

They took some in every color — except pink and blue — but mostly what they bought was— you guessed it — gold.

It's New To Us

a one-inch border combining gold with dark red, dark green or blue.

Deep fluted bowls, paper and only 25c each, are lined with bright gold or a frisky Pennsylvania Dutch design. A fibreglas bowl, deep as a salad bowl, has a cheerful candy-cane and red ribbon curving up its sides.

Ready-tied bows—hey, that's for us! Happy House's wrapping department not only has paper, but those bows that somebody else has already worked on. All thumbs, anyone?

Shell Game. Unusual ornaments and table decorations are at Princeton Decorating on Palmer Square this year. One group has been made on a base of abalone shell, with its gleaming irridescence.

The shell has been glittered on the outside. Then inside, there's a golden snail-shell with a "diamond" on top. Other ornaments are based on gilded scallop shells — pick your bivalve.

Gilded musical instruments four inches long may not make a noise, but they add mute gaiety to a tree. Trumpet and French horn, trombone and saxophone, glittered on top of the gold, are 50c each.

Up the Square, Princeton Gift has Santa trolls and inch-high Santa elves made out of little wooden balls. A red felt skier is on the way — DOWN!

Bring On the Goose. For a Christmas table, Farkouh has a feast-size cotton cloth in red with gold poinsettias, 60 by 80 inches, for $5. Will you spend nights at the round table? Here's Farkouh's 68-inch round cloth edged with white fringe. It's drip-dry, $5.95.

A bright red tablecloth, 54 by 72, has "Noel" on the part that hangs down. Its counterpart in green has a band of angels. The cloth is $9.50 at Farkouh's, with apron to match.

A Christmas - place - mat might be Farkouh's red one with its snowy bells, or the white one with red candles and plenty of holly. Country Mouse's mat is from Denmark, red "linen" edged with Christmas folk designs.

Fingertip towels, white with Christmas applique in satin, are a pleasant holiday gesture toward your guests — from Farkouh.

Home Decor, in the Princeton Shopping Center, caters to the young with Santa and two bath-time children on a red bath-mat. The scrub mit — "you mean I gotta take a bath on Christmas Eve?" — is mint striped, with benign Santa in the middle. The white satin reindeer head decorates a white fingertip.

Viking Furniture's contribution to the season is the Dolakensold horse from Sweden; $1.50, up.

FLOWERS, FOR YOU

Know A Gardener? A growing, ever-green gift-for Christmas is a pledge of eternal friendship. See Ambleside's shrubby Chinese holly with its small, glossy leaves, or the dwarf Japanese holly, a neatly cushioned shrub to use for low plantings.

Japanese holly in a taller version, or the Aeuba Japonica with its large broad leaf and big red "cranberries" is an ornamental gift to treasure year-round.

For temporary Christmas decorating, Ambleside has cut holly and boxwood wreaths, roping and cut greens.

Poinsettias at Applegate's on Palmer Square are — pink! White, too, if you want to go that far. A white, a pink and a red poinsettia together make a bright Christmas picture.

Red or white cyclamen — along with red poinsettias — are wildly and furiously in bloom at Cunningham's, on Route 518. We like, as a gift, their Norfolk Island pine, 18 inches tall. It's delicate and feathery, with indoor pleasure now, outdoor growth season ahead.

Little holly trees from Cunningham come in containers. They will have plenty of berries in due time, and can be planted outdoors in the spring.

Give a gardening family a Hatch - a - Cactus Greenhouse. It's a small, egg-shaped incubator with seeds guaranteed to produce 15-20 cacti. Comes in 59c and 89c sizes.

Dogpatch, you said? That's what we said. From Dogpatch, Georgia, come strawberry jars and fluted pots at Cunningham. Fill them with sand for greens now, plant them with berries later. They are $1 to $8.

Planters at Obal's Garden Market come from Zanesville in that warm reddish tone, or smooth black matte. The grey-green ribbed planters are becoming to any plant. You could use the two-foot cylinder Paid Your Light Bill for December?

Our favorite plug-it-in gifts — some are seasonal, some will glow just as brightly in July.

Glow logs. Bowden's Fireplace. These logs are going like wildfire (ho, ho, ho). Consider the double-faced Drum log, or the Glow, with striated coils running along the "bark" and the Englien Berry Long made of spun-glass which shows the glow all the way through and at the ends, yet.

Cook 'n' Stire Blender. Bob Lang. Ronsoe's pride, and justly so, is this $74.88 machine that will make everything from gravy to crushed ice. It COOKS, you know.

Freezer-Fridge. Van Zandt's. Side by side, Philco's big beautiful freezer and refrigerator give you seven cubic feet to freeze, 14 cubic feet to refrigerate. Icemaker included, and moveable shelves on the door for height adjustment.

Electric Clothesbrush. Johnson Electric, Rorer. For lint-pickers, a present from GE.

Outdoor Lights. Urken, Malibu outdoor Christmas lights, with colored lens covers so you can achieve your own effects. Next summer, use them in the garden and patio. Easy to install, operate for a penny's worth of electricity per night.

Timer house lights. Tiger. Time-All lights in your home while you're away. Plug it, set it for the hours you'll be gone.

Electric Mill. Gourmet. Moull's chopper, fine grinder (for coffee beans) juicer, with two heads and blender, $24.95. For $29.95, includes salad maker and meat grinder, slicer and three grating shredders.

Egg-cooker. Thorne's, West Windsor. Holds four eggs and includes cups, salt-pepper, mugs, butter dish, napkin holder and jam pot with a wing on the side for matching spoon!

Teflon Frying Pan. Lucar Hardware. By Hoover, 12 inches, with high dome lid and spatula, easy-grip, $20.88.

It's New To Us

for a tall, thin plant — or for an umbrella!

Both Obal and Cunningham fondle — but with loving care, we hasten to add — the sharp tools of Wilkinson Sword's garden tools. Precision, precision.

The Orient Shop on Witherspoon keeps your plants healthy with a graceful watering pot in brass, the one with an arc of copper tubing for a handle, and long and graceful copper spout.

TAKE A LETTER . . .

Or A Booked. Indoors, everybody seems busy at desks these days. That's what we gather, anyhow, from all the desk accessories around town. You may sit at a wall desk from the Lennox Shop out near Lambertville, a desk made of antiqued knotty pine right out of James Fenimore Cooper, or you may use a rosewood substitute from Viking, but you'll need:

Hinkson's Panasonic electric pencil sharpener ($15.95) and the split-level desk organizer for Busy Executives.

Nassau Interiors' book trough, made like a "V" to hold a row of reference books right at your elbow.

Princeton Gift's bookends of Mexican onyx, with creamy white base and a motif of white wedge and brown sphere. Horace's head bookends are white onyx and so are the Mexican figurines.

From Holland, Princeton Gift has assembled an endearing collection of glass animals: duck and ducklings, a baby elephant, owl, dachshund. These are frosted; the animals from Sweden are clear crystal — less fog, presumably, than in Holland.

A red-leather bank made like a safe, will help you balance the check-book. It has a combination lock.

A ladies' desk will hold the set with cut-velvet blotter borders, and cut velvet again on date book, picture frame and pencil holder.

LaYaker desk, formal as always, holds Gorham's silver-topped pushbutton address book ($19.50), the clock made like a sphere with works exposed through the heavy glass and the single or double pen sets with their weighty yet slim ballpoints.

Please Be Seated. Sometimes an occasional chair, perhaps for that desk, perhaps for just that sunny corner of the study, is the right gift for Christmas.

Rug Mart, knowing how we all use the telephone, wraps up a telephone bench for gossipy Early Americans. Looks like a maple chair.

Early American overwhelms you, of course, at Leonox near Lambertville, where Boston rockers, Hitchcocks, captains, Duxburys, arrow-backs and Governor Bradfords will make you think you're back with the colonies.

At the other end of time, Viking presents the real Eames chair — $359. (Usually it's $940 — quite a bargain.) A fine copy of this same Eames chair at Viking is $187.50 (ottoman $46.40) with delivery in time for Christmas.

The "carryback" chair at Rug Mart has a tall, narrow (24 inches!) back with a hole near the top so you can lift it quickly for carrying. Comes with brilliant red corduroy cushion on black with tole painting, or a mustard cushion on pine.

The tiny black spindle loveseat at Rug Mart is surely not big enough for two? Come now! It looks delicious for girlish confidences in a teen room.

Manning's pull-up decorator chair, chateau style, is extremely practical for a formal sitting-room. We saw it covered with pale rose and floral brocade.

The Pennsylvania House armchair has a cover of cranberry red, and a matching ottoman guarantee total relaxation.

Something Mellow to Read By

The most extraordinary lamp of the season, by any tally, is the Lave Lite at Johnson Electric. This lamp—for decor only, not for reading — is a cylinder of glass filled with viscous fluids that undulate slowly in the warmth of the lamp. Jhonson has them in gold, green or blue and in various sizes.

The Lave Lite is hypnotizing to watch: globules of soft dough rise slowly through the colored fluid, touching other globules and slowly spreading to re-form. Each pattern is completely unique, of course. Watch one after two martinis sometime.

For outdoors, The Orient Shop on Witherspoon has an open-work metal lamp shaped like a fish. Wire it, or use a candle.

It's the size of a tennis ball, almost, this 25-watt frosty bulb at Viking. It's the whole light and shade of a six-inch-tall lamp. The globe and its light are set on the end of an upright oblong block which can be turquoise, or any colored wood you've a fancy to. $8.95, for a cheery little night light.

Travelers should start out at Nassau Interiors with Lightolier's "Courier," the compact little box that stretches up to provide bright light in dim hotel rooms. It converts to European voltages with the switch of a flip — or the flip of a switch (we got converted, too, there for a minute.)

Candles will be well-contained in Country Mouse's cylindrical cups made of dark stripes of stained glass separated by vertical leads in pewter gray. All heights, and just about right for a votive candle, in the smaller sizes.

Traveling — presumably by stage-coach — to West Windsor, we find Thorne's valet's chair with its coathanger back, its tray for brushes, small change and the ear-keys he thought he'd lost, and a metal bar for the careful hanging of trousers. It has a low seat, so he can rest while putting on his shoes, and black matte vinyl upholstery. $19.95.

The end table is the three-step one, like library steps, from Nassau Interiors. But for wild fun, why not buy Silver Shop's round table, frilly and gilt? It has a glass top so you can see the curios inside. A folding table which can hold the slide projector, the typewriter or the portable bar, is at Hinkson's for $19.95. Measures 32 long b y24 high.

The sugar-bin table at Lennox is — a bin for sugar. Only you use it for records, magazines or the Christmas presents you're going to hide. Lennox blacksmith's sheeting but is a more primitive end table, for very informal antiqued rooms.

A noble Christmas present for the collector of antiques would be Black Kettle's cherry Chippendale linen cupboard — a real prize. They also have a 39-inch-tall Hepplewhite chest in cherry, simple, with lovely finish and good brass handles — $425.

For the right girl waiting for the right man, there are Nanning's Virginia Maid sweetheart chests by Lane. The pecan-wood chest with its geometric design is appealing for a modern young woman. Prices start at around $100, with the aroma of the red cedar lining thrown in.

JUST LIE BACK . . .

Sleep Comes Next. We almost upset the day at The Rug Mart after we discovered the Jan-back chaise laden with pillows. It's shorter than some chaises, but just the right length so far as we're concerned, and tufted right down to there, for real nap-time comfort.

Napping, you can snuggle under Stone's dacron comforter in the one with big white polka dots on yellow, red or green. Reverse corduroy comforts at Stone's are green or blue — flip them over, and you'll find the same color in fine sateen.

Splendor personified—that's the bedspread at Home Decor this Christmas. We'll start with the price tag: it's $120 in twin size, $130 in full, $180 in king.

The spread is an overall design of small cut-velvet flowers against a soft cream ground. The flowers and their curving stems are muted shades of olive, brushed gold, deep rust, gentle blue, dark raspberry — actually, the spread will go with any color in your room, and its classic overall floral design would make it beyond the reach of stylish whim. Quite a spread.

Incidentally, it's the same cut-velvet floral pattern as the desk set at Princeton Gift!

Well, those jungle sheets are peering through the foliage at Home Decor. "Jungle Cat" is leopard, spotted rust, white and black with a black band around the pillowcase.

The peacock — our favorite — spreads blue-green peacock eyes against white. The giraffe is a camouflage of rusts and browns with dark gold band and the zebra — well, the zebra happens to black and white zebra stripes with a black pillowcase band. Sweet dreams!

"Teach Me Read Me" is a Fieldcrest bedspread, sheet and pillowcase set. There's a clock face on the pillowcase, so you can sleep around the clock, and an animal collection called "Friends You Can Count On," and all of these come in a book-box. Terribly learned, but will be settle for "Teach Me Read Me" if he ean have a leopard? (The jungle prints are actually designed for adults, but you know ... .)

The Puppeshow case-sheet set at Home Decor is our choice. If anybody should ask Ponyboy is fun, too. Back in the ranchhouse, they use Steve's white cases with the American Eagle embroidery in red, green, blue or gold on white.

If you are outfitting a guest-room slutty, consider the usual brown or tan acrilan blanket at Home Decor. It's bound with "leather," and has a wonderful masculine look that's hard to find in blankets sometimes. $18.95.

Farkouh's coverlet for your bed is the all-nylon quilted spread at $17.98—modest price for the soft, bright pastels and the flee quilting. For a girl's room, Farkouh suggests the one with the flimsy skirt. It's pink roses on white, $12.90 (Blue or green, too.)

Little boxes, little compartments and the lure of something neat that closes ... Silver Shop has a fascinating 1-to-4 dressing table sheet from about 150 years ago. It's ten inches long and about four inches high, and it contains — well!

On top are 10 glass jars and bottles with elaborately carved Sheffield silver tops. Lift off this tray and you find a tray with scissors (three pairs!), a corkscrew (for corkscrew curls presumably), a pen-holder of ivory, thimble, needle, bodkin, pen-knife and four more jars.

Under that, on the bottom layer, is the kind of curling iron you heat over an alcohol flame, and a delicate ivory shoe-horn.

The box is dark wood with brass inlay and a lining of dark blue velvet covering the mirror in the lid. You can play with it all day.

Princeton Gift keeps the past alive, too, but in a different way. Here's a group of dresser boxes made of papier mache and painted with gold and color so they look like something from the court of Charlemagne. From $7.50.

Keep Your Tub Warm. Gifts for the bath? Farkouh's "Grand Damask" towels by Callaway are gold, avocado, pale pink, pale blue.

Home Decor's bath "room" is a collection of soft, cotton pile covers for everything but the tub. Tank and tiki lid, toilet seat, basket, tissue box, paper-holder — everything can be fluffy, and in 14 colors. Did we say rug? You take that for granted, probably.

Solid wood bathroom furniture, for country homes, is Home Decor's 1966 newcomer. Basket and hamper (two sizes) are solid in a pine finish with brass eagle on the side. Towel ring goes along. For a Provincial room, hampers in white or ivory with cane, are decorative.

WELCOME TO OUR HOUSE

Rug and Mirror. Moving well, $69 buys a full-length mirror framed in sensible downstairs, we find Bahadur-lans. Turkish rug, only 3x4 pine. $75) and the slightly larger Beloushistan with its tile reds and grey-blues. For sale.

The Bejar is 4ft. and a size-able 19x12 for $1,200. "Bejar" means "Iron Bed Frame Boat," and it's a heavy life-time rug. Takes three men to lift it. The ground is dark blue, the over-all pattern gold, red and light blue.

Small Oriental throws from the Rug Mart compete with Rug Mart's massive beauties hanging from the tall racks.

Home Decor suggests a nursery rug, made like clown or choo-choo, but the new and favorite rug here is a nylon pile with fringe in 11 colors and four sizes. You can toss it from floor to washer and it won't care a bit. Round, 27-inch, $6.98. To give you an idea.

Viking has 2 54 x 72-inch synthetic that looks like Greek goat hair. Use it as rug or bedspread. $44 (Any size: you order).

Some of the best-looking mirrors you'll find this season are at the Frame Shoppe on Witherspoon, across from the new library. These are in hand-carved and molded frames of 23-Karat gold leaf. Reproductions of period designs, they are 12x16 inches up to 20x24. They were made this past summer in Frame Shoppe's own shop. Not cheap, but well worth it.

Mirrors at Nassau Interiors have antiqued gold-black frames and any shape you

Who Was Nooh, Anyhow?

We covered fish elsewhere in our catalogue. If you lean toward mammals, these are for you. (Please don't argue with us about the whale; we put him in with the fish.)

Lion. Why, in this tiger town, a lion? Because Princeton Gift has a stone one larger, but the same shape as, a basketball. Cheerful features are drawn on his mane-framed face and he looks to us like a nice adornment for the hearth, if you've got $185.

Bull. Cummins has Orrefors' crystal vase, still and square, with horns etched on one side and the bull on the other. They'll never meet, that's sure.

Fox. Silver Shop's Herring hunting prints, a broad-shouldered 2 x 3 feet, show the Quorn Hounds "Breaking Cover" and "The Death." Bright-coated and virile.

Bear. Princeton Decorating's collection of boxes with natural ivory screw-on knobs with a nice, honest profile of a brown bear, full-length.

Horse. Little Orient Shop, Flemington Onyx horse-head bookends ($8.95) have been thoughtfully rounded out with small volumes on philosophy, the wisdom of Confucius, the lies ceremony.

Owl. A genuine Cybis ceramic piece from LaVake's might be this small and snowy owl, each feather flawless, or the hunched rabbit, wary of eye, and so real he almost feels soft.

Cat. That lounging feline at Nassau Interiors is dark, dark grey, beautiful on your olive velvet chair, and guaranteed not to shed.

lucite, or openwork straw in white with hands of pink velvet are other variations.

Nassau Interiors' baskets may be all pure gold, slim and chaste, or nicely work-a-day tole on black. There's a cane one and one with hunting scenes, too.

For your fireplace, there is the Spanish wrought-iron group at Bowden's, starting with a fire-screen (fan or rectangular shapes) and including andirons and wood-holder To match. Bowden has a mantle openwork scroll screen in three wrought-iron panels.

Bowden's fire Prince ($414) is a round stove which uses coal or wood. A mesh screen surrounds and protects. And a dear little Franklin stove, "Patended 1852" is warm and cozy even without the fire.

Black Kettle keeps the pot boiling over an old pair of brass ball andirons with goose neck and claw feet.

Bowden's brass fender has an eight-inch band, and comes with a brass screen for $80. Add the fireplace set, for $108.

Viking starts its fireplace tools at $12.95 with a black wrought iron trio you can attach to the chimney-breast with a special cement.

And keep close to the fire on Little Cotton Shop's (Flemington) camel-hide hassock.

LAMPS FOR LIGHT

And Charm. Lamps in the Chinese manner decorate Nassau Interiors these days. You'll find them particularly elegant in the tall styles, like the four-sided base in oyster with pink-violet posies or the rounded base with slender neck, or the solid celadon green, a bit lower in height than the rest.

A small lamp from China — at least, the style is from there — could be the lovely blue-white ginger jar lamp about a foot high. A similar one is deep lemon-gold, solid in color.

Tole lamps at Nassau Interiors have been painted on old milk cans — about half a gallon, we'd say. Another Americana lamp, more steady in bearing, is a copy of an old oil lamp. It has a very dark green shade and a base of dark jade on brass.

The whole big-little family of Lightolier lamps lives at Hinkson's, swiveling and pivoting all over the store.

Rug Mart switches on the tall antiqued brass and copper table lamp, and later, lights the candles in the low antiqued brass sticks, the ones with a leaf-shaped base. $6.95.

Cummins little herb lamps show leaf and flower painted on creamy apothecary jars. A stern dark grey pewter base has a shade in the same shade.

The biggest lamp in town? It may well be at Princeton Decorating, downstairs. It's an eagle drum, with cord hanging free, and a big drum shade. It would go well with Cummins' Revolutionary War soldier, all 10 inches of him.

Rice paper covers a standing lamp at Orient Shop on Witherspoon. Butterflies and flowers have been imprisoned in the paper layers, and bamboo gives its support. A large porcelain lamp is openwork, vase-shape, and lovely on its black wood base. $45.50.

Who's There? Little figures of this and that, seem to keep a watchful eye on all the proceedings this season. At Cummins are animals and bid fair in a bisque so much like Cybis you'll never know the difference until you examine the price-tag. The lovebird, for example, is $8.75 and prices go from there to about $30. The quail and pheasant would be excellent pieces for an autumn table decoration.

At Silver Shop, you ask to see the Lipizaner horse — and then discover he's the base of a lamp. It's a glazed porcelain, snorting and spotted. The Capo di Monte figurines here — Arendt personified — are also lamp bases.

LaVake sets a scene of Royal Copenhagen figures, in that lovely, cloudy oyster white and blue.

The most delightfully eerie little figures in town are, surely, the applewives at Viking. Some artful and artistic soul has carved faces of little old men and women out of dried apples. Really! Viking says it was a psychiatrist, occupying himself with therapy, and if so, "head-shrinker" certainly applies.

Country Mouse is guarded by the ferocious mustaches of the Nutcracker, that legendary white-whiskered predator whose middle name is Tschaikovsky. He's 15 inches tall, $10.95.

Still hunting? Look at Silver Shop's imposing French tilt clock under its curving dome. It commemorates the King of Rome, and how many clocks can say the same? Staffordshire dogs in Silver Shop fill a somewhat different need.

Hinkson lights up Ronson's table lighter that looks like an antique brass paperweight on a rosewood base. $27.50.

Princeton Decorating has felt or wool pillows with cotton print appliques, like the impudent cardinal on lime green, the quail on deepest beige, the flowers on yellow.

Rug Mart's coffee mill might be dark walnut on a base of wrought iron, or black and tole. And would you look at this coatrack? It's like a really old one, with copper-lined umbrella holder and eight hooks for Poppa and seven guests.

FOOD! FOOD! FOOD!

Come And Get It. Now, about those guests . . . We're entertaining them with beef fondue served from Gourmet's Danish lazy susan in teak (12, 14 or 20 inches). The copper fondue is set in Swiss steel or copper and the glass dishes are fitted into the broad base. The 20-incher has 10 round servers for the goo. Price $37.50.

(Happy House has a linen place-mat that says FONDUE in big Swiss letters. The recipie begins: "Rub an earthenware casserole with a clove of garlic . . ." and ends with "Enjoy yourself!" Happy's fondue dish is $13.50, combining stainless steel and green-yellow, red-royal, yellow coral.)

Steak? Gourmet's t-bone platter is Nambe flame-proof ovenware, non-tarnishing and gleaming. There's also a new deep nambe Canterbury bowl, a flutter bowl and a couple of porringers.

But getting back to the steak . . . Gourmet slices with Austrian steel. The knife has a leather handle(notice that interesting side seam in the leather), and can be washed, but not dishwater washed.

English fruit-knives and forks at Gourmet come in a set of six for $30. They have

Address: Morven

A memorable gift for a Princeton friend who collects antiquities of the area would be the pair of portraits at Silver Shop.

John Samuel Bayard and his wife Martha, formerly of "Morven," are depicted in separate small, oval portraits, each one set into a six-inch walnut frame dark with years. The pictures themselves are somewhat dim with time, but for anyone who knows local history, they would be a delight.

Why not buy the pair and give them as a housewarming present to the Princeton Historical Society?

FACE TO FACE WITH SANTA: Gregory Hirsch, 4-year old son of Dr. and Mrs. Arnold Hirsch, 211 N. Harrison Street, rivets his eyes on Santa as he tells him what he wants for Christmas. Confrontation took place at Santa's Headquarters in the Shopping Center. (Staff Photo)

simulated mother-of-pearl handles. Plain steel fruit knives come in a set, too, and there's an English Sheffield set, carving handles, for $17.

Keep It Hot. At Happy House, you can serve from a copper giant of a chafing dish that costs $29.95, or a little copper-brass one that's only $14.95. Tastes just as good.

The wooden platter scored like a meat-pounder, will catch all the goodness of the Christmas suckling pig. Season him with salt and pepper from the blue onion set, or the little pair with black Spanish scrolls against wood, or with pepper from the 12-inch king at $15.95. One pair of salt and pepper among the hundreds in Happy House, is simply a pair of great big wooden screws. Danish teak has been scooped out to make half a dozen egg cups, she's as a hard-boiled egg.

Cummins serves your salad from a wide, long, smooth bowl made of acacia wood — looks rather like monkey pod. The big-daddy pepper-grinder here is 22 inches tall — bigger than daddy.

Lenox, almost a relative at Cummins by now, has a collection of accessory dishes and bowls, narrowly edged with the traditional gold. Waterford crystal, from Ireland, makes appealing little bowls and creamers for the lady who collects.

Bouillon cups with Lenox liners will serve 12 guests. Silver Shop has them with elaborately repoussee Sheffield holders. Look, while you're here, at Silver's knife rests in French plate. Peacock, hound, swordfish, bear — each only three inches long, and quite intriguing in silhouette. Besides, they give your knife a rest.

Silver Shop's pride is a tray by Crossgrove of England, from 1430. It has elaborately embossed floor. Chippendale shell border, and six very small and useful shell feet.

Reed & Barton's Epicure salad servers at LaVake, are modestly priced, in long or round spoons. The carving fork and knife have silver bamboo handles, and the unusual salt dish is really a swan. His carved antiqued silver wings fold back over the salt. To keep the pepper out, perhaps. A big swan, still with folding wings, holds condiments.

Among the shelves of Dutch or Williamsburg pewter in the various shops, we like Princeton Gift's Dutch "aigret" box, sleek as steel, with teak top and narrow pewter lift.

Have you seen Orient Shop's small, deeply blue ceramic side dishes in the shape of a fish? Use them for seafood tidbits, but please, not for ashtrays . . .

At the other orient shop — Little Orient in Flemington — are the loveliest glazed pottery juice cups with weed-flower designs, leaves and symbols. Delicate and enchanting, with their creamy ivory background glaze.

Here, also, are Dorado stainless steel knives with polished bone handles, and that Fesero gold with repoussee handles. Have you bought white porcelain cups here, for your Japanese tea?

Lennox has Greenfield Village dinnerware reproduced from pieces in the Henry Ford Museum collection. Ironstone, as you know.

In the linen drawer, we find a surprise: Princeton Decorating's calico napkins, nine inches square, straight from Williamsburg and enveloped in brown butcher paper, Gold, red, blue.

The 90-inch homespun at Farkouh will never, never need to be ironed. Lots of colors here. This shop likes to remind you of its wide assortment of round and oval tablecloths, sometimes difficult to find. Many colors, and some cloths with fringe.

A PRINCETON TRADITION

For more than 50 years, Princeton area people have been calling LYONS whenever they want the finest meats or fowl . . .

Steaks, Chops, Roasts, Chicken, Turkeys, Squabs, Pheasants, Cornish Hens

(all cut and dressed to order)

The next time you are planning a party, having weekend guests, or want to give your family a meal that is out of the ordinary, call one of Princeton's oldest markets — it's traditional!!

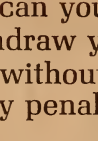
LYONS MARKET

6 Nassau Street, Princeton, New Jersey

There are all kinds of savings but. . .



can you withdraw yours without any penalty?

Did it ever occur to you that perhaps the money in your savings account wasn't readily available? In many out-of-town institutions there is a waiting period, or a penalty...or both!

Since organized by Princeton businessmen in 1917, we have never had such policies. Maybe that's one of the reasons we have served three generations of local residents.

The Fir with the Star on Top

Christmas decorations! Naturalists who use only home-cut pine, or city folks who want all the glittery tinsel they can get — something for everybody.

Anri of Austria sends Happy House a hand-carved creche with 19 figures, lovingly and skillfully carved. $125.

At Ambleside, Belle Mead, you'll find live or cut trees, and the live ones are really special: Douglas Fir, Norway Spruce and softly rounded blue spruces; Concolor fir with springy soft needles; Dwarf Alberta spruce, conical, to 6 feet high; and a delightful mixture for a small corner; Cedrus Deorda with silver-green foliage and airy lightness.

At Cunningham's on Route 518, Scotch pine wreaths, and all-boxwood wreaths (leaves don't shed from this one), trimmed with artificial fruit.

Applegate has Colorado blue spruce wreaths, garlands of ground pine, wreaths all dark brown cones or all brown buds, or dark green holly antiqued with golden tips. How fragrant the clustered branches of juniper are!

A splendidly fake white pine at Cummins is six feet tall ($32.95) and dazzling with garlands of golden tinsel.

Gold-tipped "holly" wall baskets at Princeton Gift have golden birds, red bows and bells and holders for two candles.

Old-style tree ornaments at Country Mouse include a spangled satin boot four inches high, white doves and cedarwing little ceramic figures like the ones children make out of clay in kindergarten.

A plump little red velvet heart at Princeton Decorating has two small green holly leaves and a golden cord.

shelf at Urken's. Included in the group is a real old-fashioned boiled-coffee kind of pot. Buy one quick.

Urken's Empirematic electric pot is a coffee-quickie in mirror-finish aluminum, for $6.98.

Happy House has more teakettles than you have tea, mostly in copper. For a European cook here are four Targus copper measures from Portugal: full cup, half, three-quarters and quarter. No third?

Cooking for fancy might well be done in Gourmet's paella pan ($17.50) with its heavy spun aluminum lid. Holds six quarts.

Mort N. Morton's dark walnut square canisters at Happy House have rope handles. The bread-box in this collection looks like a little chest of walnut drawers.

Farkouh's kitchen echoes with giggles: see that one-dollar mink pot holder? It's the one with a bit of mink on a gold, pink, or red satin mitten. Another pot-holder is shaped like a hand puppet and made like a leopard, with spots and bright red ears. Comes in zebra, too. Maybe somebody could give one to Mommie.

Rorer and Tiger carve the turkey with electric carving knives from Hamilton Beach. Rorer likes the Hamilton Beach with the hole in the handle — on purpose, you know, $14.86. Sunbeam's is cordless, $29.86. Tiger likes the big Hamilton Beach at $26.95.

We're asking for Rorer's Teflon rolling pin — to roll with, not to throw.

At Lucor Hardware, Princeton Junction, you'll find the spinning and sudsing car-washing brush, to use for washing cars, boats, walls, windows, the baby and the dog, $4.49. Outdoor members of the family—driving in newly-clean cars—will want Lucar's Bernzomatic propane gas stove. Lights with an instant flick of a match and a turn of a valve. For $36.25, including two fuel cylinders. Got a match?

WHO'S GOT SNOW

Not We. But why fuss around with these small appliances? Think big, they say at Van Zandt's, clumbing into the International Cub Cadet with "below-zero" starting.

You can buy all sorts of attachments for Cubs, as you know, and at the moment, the best one we can think of is the snowthrower. It throws snow. Clears a path 36 to 42 inches wide, throws in a 180-degree are 20 feet!

When it thaws, you can buy a lawn and garden attachment or two. Van Zandt will be willing.

Incidnetally, if this is dishwasher year for you, Van Zandt will present you with an 11-piece set of Wear-Ever Teflon with the Philco or Hotpoint dishwasher you buy.

They wash dishes at Bob Lang, too, using Hotpoint's portable front-loader with the reversible cutting-board top. From $189.

Oster's can-opener, at Bob Lang, also crushes ice, but not in a 180-degree are. Ever open cans and crush ice simultaneously? Ask Oster how. $24.66.

Oster also makes the professional hair-dryer — you know, the rigid one just like the ones the pros use

PUT IT ON TAPE

Listening, Posterity? While we're plugged in at Bob Lang, we'll look at this Lear Jet Stereo 8. Got a tape? For $79.95, you can buy a home tape deck you plug into your present hi-fi equipment. For $129, you get a unit for your car, with amplifier and speakers. If you're a traveliog man, this could be the happiest Christmas gift of the season. The car model plays tapes unceasingly and automatically.

Magnavox is a favored line at Bob Lang, but GE, Admiral and Sony are here, too. You may have a nine-inch, solid-state TV from $115, or an Admiral (with tubes) from $69.

UStore's Sony TV special is the model that comes with a sun visor, earphones, shoulder-strap antenna and—blonde?

A good buy in portable record players is Admiral's $59.88 model at Bob Lang. Magnavox record players go up to $200.

Bob Lang's color TV is Magnavox. At University Store, it's Zenith and RCA.

hi-fi units that sound like big consoles—in a small room. Portable hi-fi and portable phonographs begin at $59.95.

Princeton Music Center on Palmer Square, produces for 1966 the new KLH console unit model 25, for $400. Record players, stereo, FM in a plain and handsome cabinet which also has storage space for records. The sound reflects off the sidedoors.

KLH's radio at the Music Center is the model 21, with FM. Sounds like a radio five times as big!

At Rorer's, everybody is picking up the $24.97 portable radio-phonograph—seven transistors and two speeds. With a GE at Rorer's, you can go up to $54.87, for a portable stereo phonograph!

ON THE ROCKS

Bar Service Only. One for the road? Serve it from Silver Shop's vermeil wine ewer, modeled after a 1777 Henry Greenwood original. Talk about formality!

(Viking is more informal: skewer your smorgasbord with a Viking stone spear on the end of a willowy wand, three for $9.50).

Wine is really here to stay. No doubt about it. Gourmet uses a standing cooler (looks like an office ashtray!) on three steel pins, $36. A steel wine-cooler looks rather like a helmet, and a copper one sprouts two ears for handles. A danish pewter cooler has a bottle basket in the middle to hold the ice. It's a real giant—half a gallon!—and has a silver top and handle. $37.50. A vermeil wine-cooler is useful and attractive.

LaVake keeps the wine cool in a glass pitcher with a cylinder of glass extending down the middle to hold the ice. It's a real giant—half a gallon!—and has a silver top and handle. $37.50. A vermeil wine-cooler is useful and attractive.

Wine racks at Happy House are dark walnut, according to style. At Thorne's, West Windsor, the wine rack is mahogany in finish, with brass studs. It extends to 27 inches and holds 12 bottles for $6.98.

We don't have to tell you the number of icebuckets in this town. But if you need one, Cummins has elephant grey leather with smooth wood top and a tall shiny red patent leather one. . . . Happy House has modern walnut or old-fashioned pine. . . . LaVake has—guess—silver. . . . Gourmet has teak bucket-cooler. Digsmed Danish at $26.50.

We like Happy House's portable bar, in the old trunk looks just like a small suit case. It holds four stainless steel beakers, two jiggers, a bottle opener and spoon and even a little tray, to say nothing of space for three bottles. $29.95.

Hinkon's Travel-Bar is $16.93. The "Fun Kit," with playing cards, checkers and checkerboard as well as flask, is $9.95.

For happy holidays, Cummine has a clear, unadorned glass punch-bowl, with 12 cups and ladle, for $30. The cups are wide, but the lip turns inward so that the drink doesn't slop over if someone jounces your arm at a crowded party.

Christmas frosting and holly adorn an old-fashioned and a highball at Cummins. Fun to have for a hot toddy.

Silver Shop is showing what it calls a "flip glass," but we think it's the prototype of the cocktail shaker. It's a tall clear glass with thumbprint bottom, and it holds a pint-plus because we measured. drop by drop. Some sherry flip!

For a decanter, you might select Princeton Gift's big bread-based leather pitcher with its brass seal, fleur-de-lis finial and leather handle.

Orrefors decanters at Cummins begin at $8.95, and go to $38 for the eight-sided one with the eight-sided stopper.

The LaVake decanter is tall, cat-like and slim with a waiting pussycat etched on the clear glass.

Urken serves from the Rainbow collection by Libbey glass. It's "smoke rings"—four of them at the base of the smoky highball, eight for $2.49.

Viking's Tuborg beer glasses have that wide, wide, hollow stem. The Bennington "trigger" mugs have that kind of handle.

Country Mouse slices your lemon on the barman's butcher block, with accompanying knife. It's a real little butcher's block, six inches square with legs and a trough for juice. $12.

The bar tools at Princeton Gift are four in number, and they swing from a little brass stand like fire tools. You know, of course, about that silver oil-can at LaVake, the one you use for dispensing the proper amount of vermouth. When Christmas is over, you can use it for an oil can.

Hinkson opens wine-bottles with compressed air and "Corkey" Opener is $4.95.

We'd like to close this column with our favorite household gift: a cageful of string. Comes from Little Orient, Flemington. It's a great big straw cage with two-hank selections of string in wilder colors than you ever played cat-s cradle with. Just hang it and pull.

Old Jonah, He Lived in a Whale

Funny, isn't it? This year you find fish everywhere, one way or another. We prefer roast beef, actually, but what can you do?

Mobilex, Orient Shop, Witherspoon Street. Metal fish have a white eye which reflects all the surrounding colors — fascinating. In another, wooden fish carved from dark wood have white paper fins and gills. A five-inch brass fish has squares of bright glass hanging inside.

Bar Pitcher, Gourmet. Green glass fish-shaped pitcher gurgles as it pours.

Fish Set, Black Kettle, Hopewell. From Copenhagen comes a big platter, tureen and 12 fluted plates in watery blues and greens with cruising, darting, gliding fish swimming in the waterlilies.

Ivory Fish-server, Silver Shop. Curving, intricately carved ivory server in a velvet case. Server has curving Oriental dragon (and a baby squid) carved into the ivory. It has been repaired with fascinating etched reinforcements of antiqued silver.

Sealife Boxes, Princeton Decorating. Small wooden boxes have been carefully decorated on top with cutouts from old natural history books. One has a crab, from an 1813 German volume, another a sea "still life" from an English natural history of 1834. Exquisitely done.

And finally — Jonah himself, Princeton Gift. Swedish crystal whale, 12 inches stem to stern, with Jonah etched inside, sitting quietly but with an apprehensive look in his eye. $130.

TOWN TOPICS reaches every home and place of business served by the Princeton post office. By their own figures, no other Princeton newspaper does half as well.

Question of the Week

Question: What is one family tradition your family observes at Christmas time?

Where asked: Palmer Square.

Mrs. Nancy Nicolaysen, Cherry Valley Road, sales clerk, Cleyland: We have roast goose on Christmas eve and we celebrate Christmas on Christmas Eve, since our family is Scandinavian—we're Danish—and this is a Scandinavian custom. We also make Gleg, which is a delicious, hot, spiced Christmas punch.

Miss Paulette Allard, Trenton, sales clerk, Charles's Linen Canada, where I am from: we always have a Reveillon. That's like a cannibalistic lunch and dinner—everything put together. It's a big Christmas meal and it's served right after midnight mass. We usually have a Tourtiere, that's a meat pie, a combination of pork and beef, mostly pork, and turkey and all the trimmings.

Mrs. Leonard Luther, Plainsboro, housewife: Just that we're all together and home. My husband won't eat away for Christmas.

Fred Gealy, Varsity Avenue, Penns Neck, teacher: In the early morning, we always have a Christmas brunch of scalloped oysters and a stolen made the night before. We have ham . . . a very fine Christmas brunch.

Mrs. John Trimble, 352 Jefferson Road, social worker: One we do is that the shortest one gets to see the Christmas tree first with other members of the family following according to size. Now that my family is grown up and since I am rather short, it means that mother gets to go in first.

Don Bronson, 73 Graduate College, English Literature: We open our gifts on Christmas Eve. I don't know why—that's just the way it's always been.

Mark Brunswick, 7 Evelyn Place, University professor: With us, goose is traditional. There would be a real riot if there weren't one.

Peter Berndt, 224-A Halsey Street, graduate student, German: Being German, we celebrate Christmas Eve rather than Christmas Day. Christmas Day is a day for visiting friends.

Miss Janet Melidick, Trenton, Princeton Insurance underwriter: We always open our gifts together on Christmas Eve.

Mrs. James E. Loder, 34 Hibben Road, housewife: I would just say reading the Christmas Story from the Bible is the most traditional thing we observe as a family.

Miss E. E. Edwards, Franklin Corner Road, student: One we used to do was to make sure we didn't get our Christmas tree until at least 7:30 Christmas eve. It was more exciting to have to stay up and decorate it all night — and it was cheaper for my father.

Mrs. Martine Laszlo, 60 N. Stanworth, housewife and native of Paris: We use very, very small candles, about an inch and a half instead of electric lights. We have about 30 on a tree, depending on the size of the tree. Also, we have a creche. It is a special thing in the south of France to make people this tall (1½") consisting of Jesus and Joseph and so on. They are carved out of clay and painted by hand. Very colorful, very cheerful. It is also the custom to have little people representing all the people in the village such as a fisherman a postmaster and so on.

Mrs. Lillian Alvarez, 173 Nassau Street, housewife: Every year, its traditional for the family to get together in Canada. I have four sisters up there and there's about 18 of us when we're all there. We either drive up or fly, depending on the weather.

Thomas P. Stanley, 14 Graduate College, electrical engineering: We always attend midnight mass together and then open a few presents.

Alan Richards Princeton Kingston Road, photographer: As kids we always had an English plum pudding. This is an English tradition. While she was baking it, mother would add some sixpence or shillings to the pudding. She always knew where the location of the dough was an she could make sure each of us got a slice with a sixpence in it. Otherwise there would be tears of sadness instead of joy. The idea behind it was so we could have some pocket money. Something we could spend the next day. The pudding was made at home and cooked or steamed with a little piece of holly on it. Then brandy was poured over it and it was brought in flaming. It was always served at night. The lights were turned off and the blue-flaming brandy not only added to the taste but to the visual appeal. Another thing mother did was to put raisins around the plum pudding and if you wanted one you had to pluck it out of the blue flame with your fingers. We usually settled just for the plum pudding.

Susan Drury, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Drury, 41 Harrison Street, has joined the secretarial staff of National Broadcasting Company in New York. Miss Drury participated in the special college group at the Berkeley School in New York and attend Boston University.

Second Lt. T. David Sedar, son of Mrs. F. W. Seder, 176 Cedar Lane, was recently commissioned on graduating from the Marine Corps Schools at Quantico, Va. He will either be assigned to Pensacola, Fla. for flight training or will remain at the school to attend Basic School, where he will undergo 21 weeks of training for an assignment at one of the Marine Corps posts around the world.

Keith Conover, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond C. Conover of North Post Road will receive the Princeton Kiwanis' "Youth of the Month Award" this Thursday at the Nassau Inn. Dr. William Rebelin of American Cyanamid Corporation, Kiwanis president, will make the presentation during the service club's weekly luncheon.

A senior at Princeton High School, Keith distinguished himself during football season as a soccer-style place kicker in the Gogiak pattern. He is president of the PHS Athletic Association, a member of Student Council and the Madrigal Group of the PHS Chorus, a reporter for The Tower and a participant in the variety shows. Football and track (javelin is his specialty) are his major sports.

A participant in various church activities, he was elected president of a boys' group that toured Appalachia under the sponsorship of the Presbytery of New Jersey, helping rebuild a children's camp.

His hobbies include writing folk songs, playing the ukelele and banjo and dabbling in electronics. A B student who likes his studies as well as athletics and extracurricular work, he has applied for admission to Princeton University.

Elizabeth G. C. Menzies, 926 Kingston Road, is the author of "Before the Waters: The Upper Delaware Valley" published this week by Rutgers University Press. The book is a photographic record of the landmarks of the area which will soon be inundated by the construction of the Tocks Island Dam.

Miss Menzies is a photographer whose work has appeared in such publications as "Life," "Newsweek" and "Horizon." She is currently working on a book of photographs of historic buildings in the Princeton area.

Harvey H. Hammond, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Hammond, 81 Jefferson Road, and Howard G. Wood, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard G. Wood, 13 Vandeventer Avenue, recently finished an eight-week course of advanced infantry training at Fort Jackson, S. C. They received specialized instruction in small unit tactics and in firing various types of guns.

Pvt. Kevin M. Murphy, son of Mrs. Nora Murphy, Acken Lane, Gruggstown, has completed eight weeks of recruit training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot at Parris Island, S. C. He is currently undergoing a three-week program in individual combat training after which he will be given his first assignment.

Charles Samson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Samson, Brookstone Drive, is one of the starters on the freshman hockey team at Colby College, Waterville, Me. The Colby freshmen have not had a losing season in the past 10 years.

Peter W. Lawson, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Lawson, 38 Marion Road, played as a member of the trumpet section at a recent concert of the Grinnell College Orchestra, Mr. Lawson, a freshman at the Iowa College, graduated last spring from Princeton High School.

Corp. N. F. Turner, son of Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Turner Jr., 17 Delaware Avenue, Pennington, is currently serving with the Military Police Company at Chu Lai in Viet Nam. He and his fellow policemen work with the village government to provide protection in civilian areas near the Marine base.

Margaret S. Sussman, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Oscar Sussman, State Road 206, sang as a member of the choir at Russell Sage College, Troy, N. Y. at a concert given for returning alumnae. Miss Sussman is a freshman majoring in nursing.

Rosette F. Gault, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Gault, Cleveland Road, sang in the chorus of a production of Gilbert and Sullivan's "Iolanthe" at St. Catherine's School, Richmond, Va. The operetta was produced in cooperation with a nearby boys' school, St. Christopher's.

Warren Cook, Clarksville Road, Princeton Junction and Fred Jackson, Edgeboro Road, and Mrs. Alfred A. Bernhardt, 27 Marion Road, is the author of the wrestling team of Grinnell College, Iowa, which last year won the Midwest Conference Championship. Mr. Bernhardt is a junior at Grinnell.

Thomas M. Poole, 32 Mason Drive, has been named merchandise manager in the personal products division of Lever Brothers Company. Mr. Poole will have marketing responsibility for Pepsodent and Super Stripe toothpastes and other dental products. Before joining Lever Brothers in 1963, he was associated with N. W. Ayer and Son and with Richardson-Merrell.

Dee Carell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald D. Carrol, 99 Jefferson Road, is a member of the 90-voice Curry College Concert Choir, which is performing its annual holiday Concert this week in the Milton, Mass. school's chapel. She will sing selections from "The Sound of Music" and Israeli folk songs, as well as classical works.

Patricia Wood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Wood, 14 Knoll Drive, served as general chairman of the annual song contest last week at Reaver College, Glenside, Pa. A senior, Miss Wood is studying fine arts at Beaver. She is a graduate of Montclair High School.

Miss Susan Minis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Philip Minis, 74 Wilson Road, served as interpreter for Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson during the visit made by the President and Mrs. Johnson to Mexico. Miss Minis, a graduate of Sarah Lawrence with the class of 1964, interprets French and Spanish for various governmental agencies, including the State Department and the OAS as well as the United Nations. She holds an Interpreters Certificate from Georgetown University.

Miss Minis was flown to Austin on December 2, and in the following day, traveled to Mexico with the Presidential party.

You give up things when you buy the Mercedes-Benz 230S. Things like rattles, rust, and shabby workmanship.

A pox on the status symbol that's all glitter and no guts. At $4,754, the Mercedes-Benz 230S is an efficient machine, built to endure. Its body is welded 10,000 times—and painted with 7 enamel coats. A 24-pound layer of under-fitting stuff goes first body won't seem as if it's plastered to a sheet of flypaper.

Comfort without trivia

Mercedes-Benz engineers waste no time on frivolous gadgets. No built-in record players, no card tables, no coffee urns. Just sensible amenities abound. Item:

likes his studies as well as athletics and extracurricular work, he has applied for admission to a small Pennsylvania college where he can major in Christian education. His interest in working with youngsters stems from summers spent as a counselor at a service club summer camp.

Keith's father is service manager of the Princeton Fuel Oil Company. He has an older sister attending the College of Wooster, Wooster, O.

Warren Cook, Clarksville Road, Princeton Junction, and Fred Jackson, Eggsington Avenue, Pennington, both of the New Jersey Department of Agriculture are among seven appointed to the promotion committee for the New Jersey Flower and Garden Show. The show, which is planned for April 8 through 12 in West Orange, is expected to draw 30,000 horticultural enthusiasts.

Alan Bernhardt, son of Mr.

lawyer of undersigning stifles rust

Read on for the rest story of why the Mercedes-Benz 230S is a shrewd investment indeed.

The Mercedes-Benz 230S gleams with a rich, 7-coat enamel finish. A handsome way to fight corrosion.

A SHOCKING admission: the 230S uses a body style first seen in 1959.

Mercedes-Benz engineers refuse to make changes for the sake of change. Superficial styling changes don't make a car better—in fact, they often hinder real technical advances.

And the 230S body is advanced—it's arc welded at 10,000 points. After 50,000 miles, you may begin to wonder if it will ever rattle.

Nor is it likely to rust. The entire body is plunged out of sight in a primer bath before painting. A tough caulking coat swirls into every crevice, every pore. No sooner is the primer baked on than a 24-pound spraying of plasticized undercoat seals the car's underbody against the menace of road salt and rust.

Then comes paint—49 pounds of it, spread on in 7 careful layers. The final coat is hand sprayed, in a paint shop cleaner than a hospital operating room.

Note to nitpickers: You won't find lumpy "orange peel" flaws in the paint. And you won't find pits in the chrome. It's backed by two platings of copper and one of nickel over a steel base. Rust and rot are thwarted again.

The 230S' 6-cylinder engine is designed to last the life of the car. It is so perfectly balanced (engine tolerances are as fine as 4/10,000ths of an inch) that you can keep it humming almost endlessly at near maximum speeds—with no hint of strain.

Sixty-minute engine test

Every 230S engine hums for an hour at the factory on a special test stand. To flush away every speck of dirt and debris, engine oil is changed 62 times during this trial run.

This engine measures about half the size of a domestic V8. Yet the 230S hits a peak speed of 109 mph and in normal driving squeezes over 20 miles from a gallon.

A lesson from racing

"Mercedes-Benz engineers know how to build sports car handling qualities into a family sedan—there's no doubt about that in our minds," comments CAR LIFE magazine.

With rear swing axle, wheels act independently.

The engineers learned how by building a world championship sports-racing car, the 300SLR. Then they adapted its suspension to Mercedes-Benz sedans.

All 4 wheels on the 230S are separately sprung. They soak up ruts and bumps without sending shivers through the whole body.

If this system weren't so costly to build, American cars might have it. No full-sized domestic car does.

European tourists: You'll see the 300SLR at the Daimler-Benz Museum in Stuttgart-Untertürkheim. You'll spot a few dozen other famous racing machines too; Mercedes-Benz has won 4,403 competitions and 5 world championships in the past 70 years.

Forget brake fade

The 230S weighs 1½ tons. Caliper-type, 9-inch disc brakes at front (where 70% of the car's weight is shifted in stopping) help supply braking ability adequate for twice this weight.

Disc brakes shrug off heat buildup in hard use. You can virtually forget the threat of fading (pass the good news along to your wife; it will do wonders for her driving morale).

Science defeats fatigue

Long trips are no ordeal in the 230S. Seats front and rear are almost chair height. They're deeply contoured and firmly padded (just like the doctor ordered—orthopedic physicians guided seat design).

You can tilt both individual front-seat backs to 4 reclining positions. On hot, humid days you'll feel the benefit of those thousands of miniscule air vents in the seat material. Your players, no card tables, no coffee urns. Yet sensible amenities abound. Item: Small nozzles at either end of the instrument panel. They shoot warm air to defrost the front side windows.

Purists: Note that wood-grain instrument panel trim. Contrary to a popular trend, it's real wood. Contrary to another popular trend, it fits. So does everything else on the 230S. One of every 11 Mercedes-Benz employees is an inspector to keep it that way.

Safety is an obligation

Mercedes-Benz considers safety a sober obligation—not a public relations problem. Safety starts with basic car design, not a few tacked-on afterthoughts.

The 230S body is a patented safety feature. Front and rear sections are designed to yield on violent impact, absorbing shock before it can reach the passenger area. Front disc brakes and a dual circuit brake system are standard equipment. The vital matter of tires—so often neglected in new cars—is solved with super premium-grade tires on every 230S. Door locks are designed to keep doors shut in collisions from any angle. Inside, there are no sharp edges. Safety padding extends even to the steering wheel hub—and the rear vision mirror is spring mounted, to break away on heavy impact.

Mercedes-Benz motor cars: from $22,942 to $3,929

Maybe you can afford a Mercedes-Benz without knowing it. Suggested retail prices* for a few popular models:

600 Grand Mercedes	$22,942

Going to Europe?

As your Mercedes-Benz dealer, we can help arrange all details for European delivery of a new Mercedes-Benz. You'll save money, time and worry—and assure proper servicing when you return.

For full information, see us or write to Mr. Peter Grassl, European Delivery Manager, Dept. A 104 Mercedes-Benz of North America, Inc., at O. Box 213, Cliffside Park, New Jersey.

You needn't visit Europe to drive the 230S. As your Mercedes-Benz dealer, we'll gladly arrange a thorough demonstration drive in this or any other Mercedes-Benz model. It is something of a revelation to drive a car built to be the best—not the best seller.

Imagine that it's two o'clock in the morning — and your child is sick...

It's pretty frightening isn't it? We think hospital and we first think danger.

But think again — the calm, professional security. There is no substitute for this kind of help.

And your hospital has no substitute for your kind of help. Unfortunately, for hospital finances, it's all too often "two o'clock" in the morning.

Right now Princeton Hospital is asking for contributions for our Annual Capital Fund Appeal.

Our goal is $75,000. This money is to be used for essential equiptment and to help amortize our loan.

Please do what you can for us. Now.

CHRISTMAS EXHIBITIONS

Antonio Luccarelli. During December, the Nassau Club presents Antonio Luccarelli's new technique of "Earth Paintings." As the term implies, the medium is made from actual earth in its various categories of sand, clay, shale, acid and alkaline soils made maleable and applicable to canvas by an unidentified DuPont product.

The result offers a lot of texture without much range of color and is used by Luccarelli in conjunction with a background painted in old-fashioned oil colors. The landscapes in lowest key throughout are the most interesting and from them we receive a strong impression of geological structure as well as natural mood.

Somber Nature. Untitled, we must identify in our own terms two exceptional paintings "Approaching Storm," probably a tornado, moves tiers of earthy foreground back into ominous and mattly painted distance, giving a total effect of dark and brooding nature. Other paintings are more serene but the one we studied longest is one we'll call "Reflections." We have respect for the concept and completion of this rather frightening landscape with rock piles and strata which are unrelenting even in their reflections.

TEACHER AND PUPIL: David Chapin, New York artist who teaches for the Princeton Art Association, examines some of the abstract paintings done in his fall classes at the PAA. Mrs. Stanley Stein, a pupil of Mr. Chapin's, joins him in looking over the work. Mr. Chapin will teach during PAA's winter session starting January 9.

Luccarelli has always "worked towards greater reality in new media and new forms." Since his last show at Gallery 100, his techniques have been refined and made more subtle and with his new medium he is expressing that combination of the abstract and the representational which he's after. Paintings can be seen at the Nassau Club daily from 10 to 12 noon and from 2:30 to 5.

PRESENT DAY CLUB

Dagmar Tribble. Outspoken in color and technique are the new watercolors by Dagmar Tribble at the Present Day Club, on view through January. The result of a summer in Cannes, the still lifes are alive with her usual vitality and an extra bright French palette.

No flower is less than full blown or outsize, no vegetable is but perfection and only one fish is quite dead; all are arranged in profusion. After considering the holiday look of this show, one is aware of Mrs. Tribble's own energetic style backed up by real understanding of idea, design and the medium. We think that "Daffodils," less exuberant than most, is still a typical and satisfying example of her bold and articulate handling of watercolor still-life.

Mrs. Tribble has the distinction of exhibiting her watercolor "Fleurs" in the current show, "Two Hundred Years of Watercolor Painting in America," at the Metropolitan Museum of Art.

McCARTER THEATRE

"Design '66." Cintra Huber has dedicated her show of "Design '66" to McCarter Theatre for "the many hours of pleasure it gives to the community." This is a nice pledge of appreciation and a compliment which the community could well turn to Cintra Huber herself.

Through many years the special events and benefits, which liberally punctuate our Princeton lives, have been gay, and effective by this artist who has been so generous with her time and innate decorative talents. The fetes and balls, the boutiques and benefits, school occasions and childrens' parties have been decorated always in good taste and with appropriate designs.

Simplicity and vibrant color and clever grouping are her fortes for making large empty spaces attractive and even cosy. In illustration or smaller decorations, her imagination and love of fantasy come fully to play and these "designs" have a charming feeling for gesture and story.

"Designs" are explained in idea and execution on separate panels. They are interesting to study and at the same time they make a delightfully theatrical showing for McCarter halls. Sponsored by the PAA, they may be seen daily from 10 to 5.

ART ASSOCIATION

Show and Sale. Anyone who has perused the current PAA program can guess that there is a beehive of activity at 14 Nassau Street. Some of the achievements may be seen this month during the Christmas Show of work by students, members and teachers.

As in any show of this kind with such a range of talent and technique, the overall picture is uneven, but to view it as an indication of the nature of the classes, the progress of the students and some of the sources of their inspiration, it is encouraging. Without a doubt, everyone is working hard and enthusiastically in his appointed role.

Some of the students are extremely able, often dramatic and, once in a while, wholeheartedly joyful in their interpretations. When you come away, you know that the PAA is making a good contribution to the community life. Open daily, Monday through Friday from 12:30 to 2:30 only.

GRAPHICS ON VIEW

At Graphic Workshop. Graphics of an international origin are to be seen at the Graphic Workshop, 12 Nassau Street, during December and January.

The international character is supplied by artists from Japan, France, Poland, Yugoslavia, Germany and our United States. All prints are for sale from $20 to $70.

Though the individual prints may be changed during the two months, each artist's work will be replaced with others in kind. Currently we are particularly impresed with a sturdy woodblock by the Japanese artist Takahashi, a Braque-like composition by an American, Mitchell, and a Belgian's etching in color which merits the title, "Silence."

WINTER COURSES LISTED

By Art Association. The Princeton Art Association, 14 Nassau Street, will offer 10 courses in painting, drawing, sculpture and graphics in its winter program. Classes will start the week of January 9 and will run for 10 weeks.

Mrs. H. Kempton Hastings, chairman for classes, has announced the following schedule: Monday mornings, 9:30 to 12:30, Still Life Painting in Watercolor, by Dagmar Tribble; Tuesday mornings, Life Drawings and Paintings, live models, no instruction; Tuesdays 1 to 4, sculpture by Robert Barnes; Wednesdays, 9 to 12, Three Dimensional Drawing and Paintings and Assemblage by Margaret Johnson; and also on Wednesday, two courses in painting by David Chapin: afternoons, Drawing and Painting, oil and acrylic; and evenings, Painting all media.

Also Thursdays from 9:30 to 12.30, Watercolor Paintings by Vera McKinley; Thursday evenings from 7 to 10, Graphics, by Stefan Martin; Tuesday and Thursday afternoons, 3:30 to 5:30, Creative Expression for children from the fourth through eighth grades by Pat Kern; and Saturday mornings, Drawing and Painting: Theories and Techniques, for students and adults, by William Monaghan.

Complete information about all classes and the background of the teachers, all of whom have had wide experience teaching and practicing art, may be obtained at the Art Association office or by calling 921-9173 weekdays between 12:30 and 2:30

Membership in the Art Association is a prerequisite for enrolling in the classes; application for membership will be accepted with registration for classes. The chairman for membership and class registration is Mrs. Simon Marcson.

EXHIBITION OF CONTEMPORARY GRAPHICS
We are pleased to announce the first exhibition of international contemporary prints. This choice group of original color woodcuts, etchings and lithographs displays modern expression at its best.
Graphic arts has come forth as the area producing the most vigorous creative work using new and imaginative techniques. This initial introduction of many of these artists to Princeton represents some of the finest work being done. Prices admit, however, Christmas gifts as well as energetic personal collecting.
The Gallery of the Graphic Workshop, with entrance on Bank Street, is open from 9-5 weekdays, 10-5 Saturdays for your browsing.

70 YEARS OF SHOES

At Brophy's. This is th 70th Christmas for Brophy's in the shoe business in Princeton.

In 1896, Edward Brophy opened his store in Upper Pyne, the building on Nassau Street.

Mr. Brophy ran his store until 1939, when it was taken over by his nephew Thomas the present owner. For almost 20 years, Brophy's shoe-box size store occupied the Upper Pyne location. Then, in 1957, Thomas Brophy transferred his stock to his present 5 Palmer Square address.

Just to keep things in the family, Thomas Brophy Jr. joined the firm as vice-president in October, 1965, and father and son have been welcoming customers together for more than a year.

Thomas Junior was graduated from Princeton High School and from Niagara University with the class of '63. Before coming to Brophy's, he spent two and one-half years with the Massachusetts Mutual Life Insurance Company, and made the one-million sales mark twice.

GROCER WINS $800

In Cola Sweepstakes. James Bovino, owner of Bovino's Market, 39 Leigh Avenue, has won $800 in Royal Crown Cola's "Lucky Six Sweepstakes."

Mr. Bovino is one of six grocers in the United States to win a cash prize. The award was announced by William E. Pearson, vice-president of the E. L. Kerns Company of Trenton, which distributes Royal Crown Cola in this area.

DIVIDEND RATE RAISED

At Nassau Savings. Nassau Savings and Loan Association has announced an increase in its dividend rate to four and a half percent. The new rate is the highest in the area for regular insured savings accounts.

Nassau savers also receive interest computed from the first of the month on funds deposited by the 10th. All accounts are insured up to $15,000 by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation.

As an incentive to savers, Nassau Savings is offering those who open an account with $25 and those who add $25 to an existing account an opportunity to purchase a starter set of quality tableware at a greatly reduced price. Each time he adds $25 to his account, the depositor will be able to add to his tableware set.

VOLKMANN HONORED

By Audio Society. John E. Volkmann of 60 Dodds Lane, a member of the technical staff at RCA Laboratories, has been honored with the John H. Potts Memorial Award of the Audio Engineering Society.

Mr. Volkmann was cited for "his elegant application of acoustic principles in the development of large-scale loudspeakers and sound systems." The Potts award was established in 1942 in honor of the pioneer in electronic development.

JOINS HILLIER

Dennison on Staff. Thomas D. Dennison of Carter Road has joined the staff of J. Robert Hillier, Architect, of 44 Nassau Street.

Mr. Dennison has had experience in architectural work both in Europe and in the Princeton - Trenton area. He received his bachelor of architecture degree from the University of Pennsylvania in 1963.

TWO PAIRS OF SHOES: Thomas Brophy (left), and son Thomas Jr. keep the laces neatly tied at Brophy's Shoe Store on Palmer Square, now celebrating its 70th Christmas.

SPORTS In Princeton

TIGERS 10 DEEP

Bench Unusually Able. Two more games are on the Princeton basketball team's schedule before it breaks for a short Christmas holiday. The Tigers are heading for Charlotte, N.C., to face a strong Davidson quintet Thursday night and will play the only afternoon game of the season in Dillon Gym Saturday at 2 30 against Navy.

Both contests will provide further evidence of just how good the Tigers are this winter, with a victory on the trip south giving them a 5-0 mark that would include three extremely tough contests away from home. The outcome will give the victor the edge in the brief rivalry: Davidson won three years ago, 102 to 68, after the Tigers had won, 79-70, the year Bill Bradley was a sophomore. Less trouble is expected from Navy, which has lost five straight to the Tigers and has to play them here.

Indicative of the problems that Dillon Gym will create for visiting teams this winter is the fact that on both occasions they have played there this season, the Tigers have broken the floor record. Their total of 108 points against Lafayette on December 1 was topped Friday night when Colgate was vanquished, 110 to 72

Thomforde vs. Alcindor?

Princeton's basketball team will play in the Holiday Festival in Madison Square Garden during Christmas Week, 1968, thereby setting up a possible meeting between Chris Thomforde and Lew Alcindor of U.C.L.A. The latter's four-inch height advantage would make it tough for the 6-9 Thomforde, but the two met as high school seniors in New York and reportedly played pretty much on even terms.

In addition to the Tigers and U.C.L.A., three of the teams which Princeton will meet this year in the Quaker City Tournament will be in the Garden in New York. They are Michigan State, Villanova and Niagara. St. John's, Holy Cross and North Carolina round out the field.

Coach Bill van Breda Kolff has a clear-cut problem with this current Princeton squad in trying not to run up the score against weaker opponents. He can pull his starting five, as he has done in both games here, when they have a comfortable lead midway through the second half. But unlike a football coach, who can instruct his quarterback not to pass in a runaway game, van Breda Kolff cannot ask his reserves to go into a half court freeze, or to toss the ball over the backboard.

Without question, he has the best reserve quintet in Princeton history, and when five fresh players of their ability arrive on the floor, they are more than a match for a tired first team of ordinary ability of their even less capable replacements. It was largely the play of Al Adler, Bill Koch, Dave Lawyer, Robby Brown and Larry Lucchino that turned the Colgate contest into a rout.

During the 27 minutes it played as a unit, the starting quintet of Chriss Thomforde, Ed Hummer, John Haarlow, Joe Heiser and Gary Walters hit on approximately 45% of their shots and built up an 18-point lead. In the remaining 13 minutes, the Tigers shot at a rate of 64% and increased the margin from 18 to 38 points. Obviously, "clearing the bench and "holding down the score" are by no means synonymous in Dillon Gym this season.

Tough Tests Ahead. This is in no way to say that Princeton has a world-beater on its hands or that it will come close to matching the achievements of Bill Bradley's team, year's squad is intriguing, however, particularly for those who remember how often the late Cappy Cappon used to go which won two NCAA regional titles and placed third in the nationals. The depth of this 40 minutes with five players — because there was such a world of difference between his fifth and his sixth men.

Immediately after Christmas, the Tigers go into the Quaker City Tournament, which does not appear to have a weak entrant among the eight competitors. Drawn against Bowling Green in the opener, they may play one or more of three of the nation's top quintets — Louisville, LaSalle or Michigan State — depending on action in the last three days of the event.

There is, obviously, no substitute for Bradley, but Princeton does have something it never had while the All-American was round. That there is balance on this year's team is clearly indicated by the fact that after four games, all five starters are in double figures. Such statistics are unquestionably without precedent at Princeton.

Chris Thomforde, who made only seven against Lafayette, has led the scoring in the victories over Army, Villanova and Colgate, averaging 15.3, just a shade behind Joe Heiser's 15.5. They are followed by Ed Hummer, 13.5; John Manlow, 11.5; and Gary Wallace's 10.8. All but Heiser were in double figures against Lafayette, but Koch and Lawyer both had 10, scoring at a virtual point-a-minute rate while they were around.

SKATERS DEFEATED

By Army and Boston College. A 5-3 defeat by Army at West Point and an 8-4 loss to Boston College in Baker Rink were absorbed by the Princeton hockey team last week. Defensive difficulties seem likely to plague the Tigers throughout the season, but they figure to win some of their games on sheer hustle.

Both the cadets and B. C. scored against the Orange and Black while P.U. was playing six men to their five; in fact, the Army goal was the tie-breaker when the score at West Point stood at 3-all. John Ritchie, centering the combination which Coach John Wilson started as his first line, picked up two of Princeton's three goals, while forward Terry Peterman picked up 16 stitches when he was slashed by an Army defenseman.

An action-packed second period against B.C. furnished proof of the frustration Princeton encounters in seeking to build a winning hockey team. The visting Eagles amassed a total of 13 minutes in penalties during this round and Princeton twice had a brief two-man advantage. Despite this, the victors outscored the Tigers 3 to 1, their last goal coming while they had a man in the box.

The sequence went this way: At 1:49, Boston College picked up a minor penalty and at 3:40, drew a major (five minutes) for spearing. But instead of enjoying a one-man advantage for a full five minutes, Princeton actually was on the defensive for a good part of the time. Nine seconds after the first B.C. penalty expired, Mason Young of the Tigers went off for checking in the offensive zone and less than a minute later, defenseman Bill Ramsay followed for a cross-check.

The Eagles then used their one-man advantage to score. Shortly before the five-minute penalty was up, and with both Young and Ramsay out of the box, the Tigers again had a 6-4 margin in manpower but to no avail. Just before the period ended, when Princeton was again a man long for the fifth time, the visitors beat goalie Sumner Schaeter on a long shot from the left alley.

B. C. led 5-1 at the end of the first round and 6-2 after two. Goalie Jeff Cohen was as small and as agile as any netminder seen in Baker Rink in some time, and it was greatly in the Tigers' credit that they beat him four times.

Ritchie, Peterman, Young and Captain Gordy Gladman got the Princeton goals. Following Tuesday's game with Providence (see page 20), the Orange and Black will make its first appearance in the Eastern College Athletic Conference Holiday Festival Saturday in Madison Square Garden.

The Tigers are matched against Boston University at 1 o'clock in the opening round. St. Lawrence and Yale will play at 3, with the losers meeting Sunday at 2:30 in the consolation round.

The two winners of Saturday's games will play Minnesota and Clarkson Monday, with the championship game set for Tuesday at 6:30. Princeton does not figure to top B. U., and will do well if it can handle the loser of the St. Lawrence-Yale contest.

HOCKEY TOURNEY HERE

Eight Schools to Compete. Eight northeastern schools will compete Friday and Saturday at the University's Baker Rink and Lawrenceville's Lavino Rink in the 19th annual Lawrenceville School Invitation Hockey Tournament.

Eight Princetonians are among the competing skaters: forward Ford Fraker, defenseman Hugh Samson and goalie Peter Samson of Andover; forward John Andresen and defenseman Dave Buttle and Jim Stover of Choate; and forwards Mark O'Donnoghue and Chris Sowers of Lawrenceville.

Play will begin at 9:30 Friday morning when Nicholas School of Buffalo meets Andover at Baker Rink, and Belmont Hill School of Massachusetts confronts Choate at Lavino Rink At 11, Taft School of Watertown, Conn. will challenge St. Paul's School of Concord, N. H., at Baker and the Trinity College School of Ontario will oppose Lawrence-tilt at Lavino.

Baker Rink will be the site of contests between the losers of the Nicholas-Andover and Belmont Hill-Choate matches at 3 on Friday afternoon and between the losers of the St. Paul's-Taft match at 4:15.

The championship semi-finals will be held Friday evening, as the victors of the four morning contests face off. The St. Paul's-Taft winner will play the Nichols-Andover winner at 8, and the Belmont Hill - Choate winner will challenge the Lawrenceville Trinity College winner at 9:15.

On Saturday, the fifth-place competition will be held at Lavino Rink and the third-place match at Baker Rink at 6:30. The consolation final will take place at 11 at Baker, and at 2:30 the tournament championship will be held there.

SKI CARDS AVAILABLE

For Belle Mountain. Identification cards for the Belle Mountain Ski Area are available at the Mountain View Pro Shop and the Princeton Country Club from 8 to 4 daily.

The Mercer County Park Commission urges skiers ot purchase the cards in advance, to avoid delay at the ski area. The cards cost from 75 cents to $3, depending on age and place of residence of the skier.

If there is sufficient natural snow, the area will open Friday. If the snow must be manufactured, it will open next Wednesday, December 21.

TRENTON HERE FRIDAY

In Test for PHS Five. Princeton High and Trenton will clash Friday evening on the PHS basketball court in a key contest for both starting at 8.

On Tuesday afternoon, the Little Tigers will entertain newcomer Lawrence High School whose Cardinals won their first basketball game ever last week in a 47-43 triumph over North Burlington. This contest will start at 3:45.

The THS-PHS tilt is important because it should help the followers of each team to determine something about respective potential. So far, both the Tornadoes and the Little Tigers have disappointed by losing two of their first three.

It is doubtful that Trenton will be able to recapture for the second straight year its accustomed No. 1 position in the County. Cathedral seems to be in the catbird seat this campaign.

Brief Glimmerings. Of its first two performances, few followers of the Blue and White would have given PHS any chance against this year's sub-standard Trenton quintet. But there were glimmerings — and brief as they were, they were unmistakable — that Princeton High has within itself the potential to play exciting basketball — at least of a caliber to topple Trenton. So Friday should be very interesting Indeed.

That PHS has the potential to win was clearly evident in the first half of its contest Friday night against visiting Ewing. In a somewhat little short of remarkable, in comparison with the final two outings, the Little Tigers were playing crisp, disciplined, effective basketball.

With Rich Volz popping in one-handers from all over and 6-5 Tom Wood playing his best ever under the boards, PHS outfought the aggressive Blue Devils in the first period, 15-17, those 18 points being only one less than PHS was to get in the entire second half. The shooting on both sides was accurate.

The ebb and flow continued through the second period, with Ewing taking a 40-35 lead into the dressing room. In the half, Volz hit for 13, and Wood and Jeff Bullock for seven each. But PHS left the court with one king-size handicap: Wood had picked up four personal fouls.

It's hard to know just how much the specter of four fouls impaired Wood's aggressive play under the boards. When he finally did foul out with 5:20 to go in the final period, Ewing led at the time, 57-48, one less than its final margin of 10 (64 to 54. Whether Wood's departure was the deciding factor in Princeton's turn toward misfortune, is hard to say; no one could argue convincingly that it wasn't.

Meanwhile, Ewing, led by its 6-6 center, Chuck Worthington, methodically thinned Volz and Wood's replacement, Jeff Frangos, to win its first. It had previously been stopped by top-rated Cathedral and Notre Dame.

Play Becomes Sloppy

From discipline, the team had degenerated into anarchy. The final five minutes was an absolute mishmash of fouls, missed peepers, stolen ball and unrelieved mayhem. Twice in this hectic period when PHS still had a chance to close the gap, Marty Hines stole the ball for PHS only to have it stolen right back. In the last two minutes, not one of the five that started for PHS — Wood, Volz, Bullock, Tom Yoder and Alan Moring — were on the court.

Volz ended with 17, high by one for the Blue and White this season. Hines followed with 11, Bullock had 10 and Wood, 9. Coach Tony Borzok used every player on his 12-man squad.

If the Little Tigers can put two good halves back-to-back, of the nature of the first half against Ewing, they will win their share of games. They should practice foul shooting, though. Against Ewing, they were only 12 for 23 from the free throw line — 52%.

PHS WRESTLERS AWAY

After Opening Loss As expected, the Princeton High wrestling team was outclassed Saturday by its crack visitors, Hunterdon Central.

Before a surprisingly large turnout, with PHS followers filling three-quarters of the bleachers on one side of the PHS gym, and a large Hunterdon contingent, the visitors swept every match but two. Princeton's John Barclay deadlined his opponent, 2-1, in the 141-lb. class, and Hank Wilkinson battled his 115-lb opponent to a 0-0 draw.

Coach Tom Murray's grapplers will engage in their third and last bout in December when they visit North Hunterdon on Friday. The match will start at 6:30.

Commenting on the opening bout, Murray said: "We did about as well as I expected. We made a couple of fundamental mistakes in many of our matches which resulted in quick pins."

Murray pointed out that his squad is dominated largely by freshmen and sophomores who lack experience. "We knew we were in way over our head," he said, "but we've got some good, strong boys. We'll come along; better days are ahead."

In a jayvee contest, Bobby Arezzo was Princeton's lone winner. He competes in the 106-lb. class. In the varsity their first game; their skating, shooting, checking — every thing was better." He cited the defense of Charlie Sheldon and the skating of one of the lines involved of Steve Hoisington, Buzz Silvester and John Race. Hugh Fitzpatrick, a freshman alternating on one of the lines, "did very well", said Cook. Fitzpatrick is a product of the pee wees here.

About the Wissahickon contest, Cook added there was no question that lack of experience in the goal is hurting the team. "We had as many shots on the cage as they did," he said.

The problem should yield to time. Neal DeGrazia, one of the boys sharing the net, never played before. He gave indications of steady improvement. "I expect him to come along," said Cook.

Against Lawrenceville in last Wednesday's opener, the big factor was conditioning. "They had been skating for four weeks and we had only three practices," Cook said. "We stayed with them the first half but after that it showed."

Lawrenceville, the host team, got progressively better.

AGAINST THE TIDE: Hank Wilkinson, 115-pounder, was one of two PHS wrestlers who managed to hack the tide of Hunterdon Central wins.

bout, junior Marty Heitner battled his opponent on even terms before dropping a close, 6-4 decision.

PHS DROPS PAIR

In Hockey, 8-5, 6-0. Loser

In its first two starts, the Princeton High School hockey team will get an early Christmas present: 12 days before its next match in which to put in some much-needed practice. It opened its season last week against Lawrenceville with only three practice sessions under its belt and coach Pete Cook reported the lack of conditioning showed.

The Little Tigers will oppose Englewood next Thursday, December 22, at Baker Rink. Starting time is 6:30.

On Saturday, PHS bowed to the Wissahickon Hockey Club Chestnut Hill, Pa.) at Baker Rink, 8-5. Take away the first five minutes however, when the visitors tallied four goals, and the Little Tigers would have won, 5-4. Bobby Linder got three of the goals and an assist. Right wing John Patten added another and Paul Rice scored a solo shot on a partial breakaway.

Commented Cook: "I was quite pleased with the team's performance. The boys showed a great improvement over as PHS tired, scoring one in the first period, two in the second and three in the third.

HUN BOWS IN OPENER

To Bryn Athyn, 72-56. A cold shooting hand paved the way to a 72-56 defeat for the Hun basketball team Saturday in its opener at Bryn Athyn.

Indeed, the Red and Black was positively frigid from the floor, hitting on just 17 percent of its shots. "We had the shots, we just couldn't put the ball in," commeated coach Dave Leete. "You might say we were a little cold."

Hun will have time to develop its shooting. It will not resume until January 7 when it meets Pennington School in its home opener at the Princeton Seminary gymnasium.

Against Bryn Athyn, Hun tallied more than half of its points from the free throw line where it was more effective, sinking 30 of 49 for 61 percent. "This kept us in the game," said Leete, who reported that his team was never more than 8 or 9 points behind until the closing minutes.

Other Sports on Page 20

In all, the home team had 24 personal fouls called against it and Hun had 22. "They were blowing the whistle all inght," observed Leete.

High scorer for Hun was sophomore Karl Harter with 16. Mike Maguire, a freshman, was right behind with 15.

Not unexpectedly, Leete was somewhat disappointed with the results. "We played poorly," he said. "I know the boys can play a lot better than they did and I expect we'll get better. The only place we can go is up."

GALLUP POLL ROMPS

In Industrial League. In the opening games in the YMCA Research and Industrial Basketball League held last week at the Princeton High School, Gallup Poll defeated Van Nostraod, 59-25. Rick Schreve, John Smithson and Tony Boccanfuso scored 18, 13, and 12 points for the victors.

In other games, Educational Testing defeated the Hospital, 52-35, and American Cynamid topped RCA, 35-25. For ETS, Gary Rankin and Clarence Gilbert combined for 24 points, while Ed Riddick was high for Hospital with 15. Cynamid's big man was Charlie Corbett with 14; Andy Hobziar's 12 accounted for half of RCA's points.

BOWLING NOTES

Penelli Rolls 661. Bill Penelli, rolling in the B League last week strung together games of 202-226-233 for a fine 661 series.

Five others also reached the select 600 level. A second-game 149 nullified a sizzling 255 opener for John Balestrieri who finished with 607, the same total attained by Albert Petrella and Val Fowler. Bill Kiefer had 608 and Bill Bathie, 600. In all 25 games of 200 or more were rolled.

In the standings, Balestrieri Construction gained ground to move into a first-place tie with Princetown Del. Both have 50 points. Princeton Inn (48) and Leo's Gulf and Ivy Inn, each 46, trail.

High single game honors go to Norm Brown, who added a 265 to opening games of 171-203 for a 639. Bill Penelli had 191-232-190-613 and Joe Baldino, 201-217. Jerry Tomarchino had a single game of 236. All of the above scores were recorded in the Three-Man Classic League.

Farr Hardware lost ground to league-leading Colonial Restaurant, 30 to 23 wins, and second place to Procaccini Construction, which now has 25. Decker's Dairy is fourth with 20.

Lawrenceville advanced in the Tri-County Firemen's division to gain a first-place tie with Princeton No. 1. Two points back at 44 and tied for second are Kingston and Mercer No. 3. Princeton Junction is next with 42.

A pair of 211s added to an opening 200 powered Art Parr to a 622 series, while Harold Davall rolled 225-179-210 for 614. High single games were Stan Tantum's 225 and Les Luck's 223. Mike Kopliner had 211.

Just one point separates Crover Lumber from runners-up Cifelli Electric, First Aid and Princeton Aviation which are bunched at 48 points each in the Nassau League. Princeton Aviation engineered the biggest gain, having been tied for fourth last week with Tiger Garage.

Val Ranallo worked the pins for 210-209, and Dave McCloskey for 204-214. High single scores were fashioned by Norm Fowler, 222; Bill Parke 217; and Jack Fugill, 205.

The Hi-Lo's moved in front in the Blue Angels loop, eight points to six over Taps and Exports—the latter two being tied for second.

Harry Cahn's 189 was high for the week. Tom Wood with a 184 and Mike Skillman, 176, followed.

Sarah Huneycutt rolled the highest single game—a 191—and Helen Tamasi the highest series—188-182-173 (543)— in the Business Women's League. Lillian Burrough had 181-173-171-525. Other high single games: Irene Bocanfuso, 182, Diane Fowler and Mella Cruser, 177s; Dail Forsyth, 163; Charlotte Rossi, 161; and Jane Perone and Maggie Schmidt, 160s.

Irene's Day Nursery still maintains its hammerlock on the standings and leads second-place Jefferson Plumbing, 63 to 58. Young Ages has 53 and University Cleaners 48.

FISH WIN HONORS

In Three Meets. The YMCA Flying Fish brought home a gold, a bronze, and five silver medals from AAU swimming and diving meets held last weekend in Westfield, Orange and New York City.

Chuck Hector took first place in the 50-yard breaststroke event for boys 10 and under with a time of 37.7. Chuck came within four tenths of a second of the AAU Metropolitan record. He also placed second in the 10 and under group at the Westfield diving meet. His sister, Colleen, placed third in the Women's Open One Meter Diving event at the same meet.

Bob Meusel earned two silver medals. He placed second in the 100-yard freestyle race in New York with a time of 53.1 and took another second place in the same event at Orange, trimming a tenth of a second off his previous performance.

Bill Crell also earned a second place medal at the Orange meet, swimming the 100-yard breaststroke race in 1:09.6. Bob and Bill are freshmen at Princeton High School.

Gogolak Delays NFL Title

A year ago, he was a college senior. On Sunday, with 64,000 watching in the Cotton Bowl and millions more on television, he booted a 29-yard field goal that sailed over the bar with four seconds left and kept Dallas from winning the Eastern Conference title in the National Football League.

Charlie Gogolak's two field goals and four conversions were decisive in the Washington Redskins 34-31 upset of the Dallas Cowboys. The 31-31 tie that existed until his second three-pointer was all the home team needed to clinch first place in the final standings.

Gogolak's ten points made him the likely leading scorer in the NFL when the regular season ends Sunday, a tremendous achievement for a rookie. As for the Cowboys, they are expected to win the title Sunday when they play the New York Dwarfs in Yankee Stadium.

THREE BEDROOMS . . . in a nice wooded neighborhood right in Princeton and very convenient to the shopping center and all public schools, the house has living room, dining room, kitchen, 3 bedrooms and bath. One-car garage. Family room downstairs with laundry and powder room. Included are wall-to-wall carpeting, electric dishwasher, refrigerator and two air-conditioners. The lot is 85 x 150 — quite enough to make you feel like a land owner (if you are just making the transition from a city apartment), and yet not too much lawn to cut. $31,800

FOUR BEDROOMS . . . this lovely home, only 5 years old, is located on a quiet street in a fine neighborhood outside Princeton now much in favor with many staff members of research centers in this area. Colonial in design, the house has entry hall, formal living room, dining room, large modern kitchen, beautiful family room with fireplace and powder room nearby, 2-car attached garage. Upstairs: 4 bedrooms, 2 baths. Owner transferred, property available at once. $34,975

FIVE BEDROOMS . . . brand new Colonial residence on a quiet side road just outside Princeton. The rooms are large, and all the bedrooms are upstairs. This house was designed for a big family, and the children will enjoy a whole acre to play on, as well as the many playmates in the neighborhood. One of the unusual features of this house is the "barbeque pit" in the kitchen — right next to the stove (and both hooded of course). If you want to live in the country, yet be only 5 minutes from the center of town, be sure to look at this house. $39,500

TOWN HOUSE . . . here is that rarity so many house-hunters ask about — a beautifully restored old residence within walking distance of everything. Right on Stockton Street, in the Borough, it has wide entrance hall, living room with fireplace, dining room with fireplace, library, maid's room & bath, powder room . . . and a very modern kitchen with lots of cabinets, electric dishwasher, disposal and everything in perfect condition. Upstairs: another living room with fireplace, 4 bedrooms, 2 baths. Third floor: 4 bedrooms, 1 bath. Outdoors: a lovely flagstone terrace in the gardeo, and many huge old shade trees. This is a Victorian masterpiece, over a century old, which has been modernized and decorated in excellent taste.
(Sole Agent) $85,000

Many more fine homes in Princeton and vicinity in every price range.
